

West Haldimand General Hospital Auxiliary

December 2, 12 members of the WHGH Auxiliary Executive met in the Board Room with Mrs. S. Brown, chairman, presiding.

Following the auxiliary prayer, Mrs. W. Snowden read the minutes of the November meeting. Mrs. R. Turner, treasurer gave an account of finances and bills were presented for payment.

The coffee shop treasurer's report was given by Mrs. L. Martin. The renovations are now complete in the coffee shop and the comments are most favourable. The spacious working area is much appreciated. A few shifts at work should put us in a routine and get us away from old habits. Visit the coffee shop and see our new look. Mrs. W. Nauman voiced thanks to the ladies: Mrs. S. Brown, Mrs. W. Snowden and Mrs. R. Slack who worked diligently in planning the changes. The task of cleaning the coffee shop and storeroom will now be done by the hospital housekeeping staff. If any coffee shop volunteers while on duty, find the coke machine not functioning, please call on our friend, Mr. Visser. The coffee shop will be closed for the Christmas season on the following dates: Dec. 24, 25 and 26 and at New Year's, Dec. 31 and Jan. 1.

Mrs. N. Mehlenbacher, library convenor, hopes that volunteers who take the cart will remember to keep a good supply of magazines and books as well as changing them frequently.

A report from the sewing convenor stated that five baby blankets had been sewn. All unit sewing convenors are asked to first see that the Baby Christmas stockings are removed from the storeroom and secondly that they be sewed immediately as all babies born in Dec. are recipients.

Girl Guides And Brownies

A very special meeting of the First Jarvis Girl Guide Company took place at the St. Paul's Anglican Church Hall recently when the Brownie Pack attended to send some of their girls to Guide land. After the Brownies made their Brownie Ring, they sang a song of welcome to the Commissioner, Mrs. John Brintnell and to the mothers present. The Guides then made a Horseshoe formation at the other end of the hall.

One by one, the Brownies who had completed the Brownie program, flew up through a tunnel made by their Brownie friends, to be met at the Toadstool by Brown Owl, Mrs. Ivan Church. Assisted by the Fairy Queen, Tracy Miller, Mrs. Church presented wings to each girl to be worn on her Guide uniform. The Brownie then flew through another tunnel, to be met by Girl Guide Sandra Walker who introduced her to Captain Mrs. E. R. Sherk, Lieutenant, Mrs. Elson Reu and the District Commissioner. The girls who worked so hard to complete the Brownie program were Sandra Dosser, Peggy Easton, Laurie McElhinney, Cheryl Nelligan and Jean Reu.

Mrs. Sherk was presented to Mrs. Brintnell by Mrs. Reu for enrolment. Mrs. Sherk stated that she knew and understood the Guide

Law, then made the Guide Promise and was welcomed into the Guiding Movement.

Debbie Walker received her Pioneer Badge from the Commissioner. In order to qualify for this badge, Debbie had to be able to pitch, air, strike and care for a tent, be able to cook a two course meal over a fire, make screening, a grease pit and make a useful camp gadget while at Girl Guide Camp.

Mrs. Mac Dosser, former Guide Captain, was asked to join the Horseshoe, and Marcia Rebuk presented her with a gift from the Company in appreciation of the time she spent with them.

Mrs. Brintnell then joined the Brownie Ring and Susan Willis brought forward Mrs. Robert Willis who made her Guide Promise to Mrs. Church and was welcomed into Guiding. Mrs. Brintnell presented her Guiding pin to Mrs. Willis.

Mrs. Church and Mrs. Robert Gifford received their warrants as Brown Owl and Tawny Owl respectively, of the Brownie Pack.

Two games were played, with the mothers joining their daughters. A lunch was served by Judy Haskell, Anda Rungus, Kim Saunders and Sandra Smelser, Girl Guides earning their hostess badges.

The evening closed with Brownie and Guide Taps.

Mrs. W. Nauman received word from the Lac Mac company re a new style of smock in a wash and wear fabric which had been previously viewed with much interest at the convention, but they informed us that our royal blue colour was not available. She will write again and remind them that this style was modelled in royal blue.

The equipment committee reported the purchase of a croquette costing $230 for use in pediatrics.

Mrs. Snowden, Ball convenor, reported another successful annual Ball with 392 attending. Following a discussion, it was decided to hold another Ball next year with possibly a different format along with a new date being the first Saturday evening in Dec. The Summer Gardens was seasonally decorated with sparkling silver and blue trimmings and lights with attractive mobiles hung from the ceiling. Two decorated Christmas trees graced the stage from which the orchestra of Earl Ray played old and new tunes. Our "Crystal Ball," suspended in the middle well again, sparkled at everyone. Of course, the finishing touch was the ladies, looking lovely in their long gowns, pant or cocktail dresses. Oh yes, the gentlemen looked quite handsome. Tasty sandwiches with relishes and coffee topped off the evening.

The committee to decorate the hospital for Christmas will do so Dec. 14.

All Units reported meetings to be held in January. Springvale has been making tray favours. Hagersville are enjoying their card parties. Barring a snowstorm, Cayuga will also meet in January and they have had a request by the CP&T Committee of the Rebekahs and Oddfellows of Cayuga as to what equipment the hospital requires for a donation of $125. Fisherville plan a January card party. Unit Chairmen brought back all in favour votes from the Auxilians that we hold another bazaar at Caledonia Fair.

Mrs. S. Brown announced the arrival of the hairdressing equipment. It is hoped this service will soon be available.

Mrs. C. Thor volunteered to purchase gifts for the chronic patients who may be without or close relatives. Mrs. S. Brown adjourned the meeting wishing all a Merry Christmas and a Happy Year and hoping to see everyone next year on Dec. 6.
