Pageant Honors Lady Baden-Powell

Baden-Powell

The First Jarvis Guide Company held a "Thinking Day" party for Lord and Lady Baden-Powell's birthday at the Anglican church hall.

The strength of a nation lies in its youth. Lord Baden-Powell, realizing this, drew up a program of training for boys. In this way Guiding also was born in 1909. Brownies and Rangers were begun to include the younger and older girls. It was soon learned that Guiding could serve blind, deaf and crippled children. These girls obtain a new outlook on life as their interests are widened.

Girl Guiding offers a program of training in citizenship for girls. Patrol system, patterned on the democratic system of government, develops powers of self-reliance, observation and thoughtfulness for others, encouraging girls to accept responsibility and to learn for themselves many crafts and services useful to the public.

Outdoor meetings, camping, hiking, wood-craft and nature lore give girls healthy adventure and a physical fitness, which increase the ability of the girls to become good homemakers.

Membership in the movement leads to lasting friendship and increased understanding of girls in other lands. Surely this is an instrument for the promotion of world peace. The following girls were presented with badges by Captain, Mrs. Mac Dossar: Cindy Dossar, world trefoil and birdwatcher; Andie Kungus, collector; Debbie Walker, postal and keep-fit; Patsy Walker, birdwatcher, writer, friend to animals, cook, postal and citizen; and Sandra Walker, friend to animals.

After learning first-aid from Mrs. Ivan Church, a registered nurse, the girls sang Happy Birthday, and enjoyed cake and chocolate milk. The meeting closed with Taps and a special prayer for Thinking Day.

Four Get Degrees At Norfolk Lodge

An enjoyable evening was held in Norfolk Lodge, Port Dover on Feb. 10 when Degree Captain Past Grand Brother Laird Mason and his Degree Team conferred the third Degree on four candidates from Selkirk Lodge, in their usual capable manner. Past Grand Brother Lee McNight presided as Noble Grand for the Degree. On behalf of Grand Lodge, Odd Fellow Certificates of Membership were presented to the candidates, Brothers Frank Cochran, Louis Atkinson, Ross Long, and Ivan Whitford by D.D.G.M. A. C. Smith. Visitors were present from Hagersville, Jarvis, Simcoe, Selkirk and Waterford.

On Thursday evening the regular meeting of Waterford Lodge No. 235 was held with N.G. Charles N. Messicar presiding, Brother A. C. Smith, of Selkirk Lodge who is D.D.G. Master of Long Point District No. 18 made his official visit. Mr. Smith outlined the objectives of the Grand Master for the current term. After closing ceremonies, Past Grand Douglas Collins served refreshments.

At the regular meeting of the Jarvis Lodge on Monday Feb. 16, D.D.G. Master A. C. Smith assisted by D.D.G. Warden R. O. Hurst and D.D.G. Marshall Eli MacDonald of Selkirk Lodge installed Brother Roy Reynolds as Vice Grand and Brother Earl Slater as Warden of the Jarvis Lodge. Brother Russell Miller, D.D.G. Musician presided at the piano for the ceremony. Plans were finalized for visits by the Jarvis Lodge to Springfield, Feb. 26 to open and close their Lodge meeting.

Noble Grand Brother Keith Hall of Equity Lodge welcomed D.D.G. Master A. C. Smith on Tuesday Feb. 17 for his official visit to the Hagersville Lodge. In addition to presenting the Grand Master's 1969-70 program for Subordinate Lodges, Mr. Smith suggested a planned yearly program, active participation in Lodge work and expanded social interests as means of promoting Lodge growth. Past Grand Brother Jack Laird who is also Conductor of the Grand Lodge of Ont. presided as Noble Grand and appointed Past Grands present to occupy the chairs for the evening.

In The Farm Front

Plans are now well under way for an expanded High Yield Competition program for 1970. Haldimand Soil and Crop Improvement Association members will be invited this year to take part not only in the 150 Bushel Corn Competition but also in barley, wheat and soybean competitions.

More information will be available soon but those who are not now members might wish to ask now for a membership so that they will be sure to get the detail when it is mailed out.

The local Committee for the 1971 International Plowing Match is just about ready to announce the Farmstead Improvement Competition that will be held starting this summer and running through next year. All Haldimand farmers and home owners will be encouraged to become involved in this way, at least, in preparing to host the thousands of visitors expected in the fall of '71.

The Toadstool is a part of every meeting, and around it the Brownie Ring is formed. The stem represents the Brownie Promise and Law; and the Founder knew that if the Brownies kept their Promise and Law, they would wear a crown of joy and happiness (the cap of the toadstool). He also knew that the Brownies would learn wisdom and knowledge from the wise old owl which sits on the Toadstool at each meeting.

The Brownies of Selkirk celebrated "Thinking Day", Lord and Lady Baden-Powell's birthdays, on Feb. 23. Each Brownie lit a candle on the birthday cake and thought of Brownies in another country.

Two girls were presented with their Golden Hand badge. Tests for this badge require a knowledge of simple first aid, the compass, serving tea and toast, semaphore and other things. Colleen Lindsay and Wanda Lynne McKenzie received their Golden Hand badges from Brown Owl, Mrs. Dave Huges who was assisted by Mrs. Reb Pineo. These girls also received their third year pins.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Petheram were in Toronto Thursday and Friday. Don attended the Ontario Beef Improvement Association meeting. They attended the banquet in the Royal York Hotel.

In order for this to happen there has to be 10,000 memberships sold by the first of April.

In Haldimand County some 500 voted in favour of G.F.O. It follows there should be at least 200 memberships sold here by April 1. This membership has much merit and can force the organization to provide

Brownies Thinking Day

In 1914, when Guides were well-established, there were many girls who wanted to be a part of the Guiding Movement, but were too young to be Girl Guides or Girl Scouts.

These girls were first called Rosebuds but they didn't really like the name, so Lord Baden-Powell was consulted. He thought of the Brownies and the "little people" of fairy land in the British Isles; and now there are Brownies all over the world.

The Ontario Federation of Agriculture comes to a close the first of April, so I want to review the question most often asked me, of why I accepted this position.

These are the reasons: It is agreed by nearly everyone in our society to-day there is strength in unity of purpose. This is why there are labour unions. Unions have been successful. Strength in unity is a reason for companies being formed and an amalgamating which form the complexes that are so common in our society.

Agriculture makes up a very small part of the population. In my opinion it is impossible for an individual farmer to represent himself in a society made up of so many different power structures. This is why I have supported the Federation of Agriculture for the past number of years.

However, I will have to admit that during the mid 60s when agriculture developed at a fast rate the Federation of Agriculture was not keeping pace. As a result it was not serving farmers' needs. It didn't seem this was going to change especially in this country. Because of this in July 1968 I gave notice of my resignation from the Haldimand executive which was to be effective at the end of that year. However, General Farm Organization was in the offing and it seemed this was the answer. Because the farmer was not well enough informed G.F.O. failed. The total vote showed 40,000 farmers in Ontario voted in favour of having a G.F.O.

The Ontario Federation of Agriculture then decided to make an effort to enable these farmers to have a similar organization, through individual service membership.
