

Mother's Day Celebration

By Barbara Phillips

The Wesley and Garnet United Churches honoured mother in a very unique way with Mother's Day Celebration.

The order of the service was most worshipful. The choir brought fond memories to many hearts, by their messages in songs, and the beautifully rendered poem by Mrs. Dorothy Doughty on the Blessing of Motherhood. The Scripture

Lessons from the Psalms and the Proverbs of King Solomon focused light and attention on the virtuous woman children call mother, and the lady husbands call wife.

In a most challenging sermon, which many confessed was the best in years, and others the only one so touching on the subject of Mother - Rev. Ramrattan said that modern mothers, though fraught with many difficulties, need to recapitulate the three basic principles which were handed down from the dedicated mother of King Lemuel. To her son she said, "Give not thy strength unto women", next, "It is not for kings to drink wine." And finally, "Judge righteously, and plead the cause of the poor and needy." Here was a mother who was sparing no pains in laying a solid foundation for true character building in chaste living, abstinence from harmful indulgences, and just conduct in the exercise of authority.

Mrs. Swine was born at Varencoy, the daughter of the late Robert H. Miller and Margaret Brown. Funeral services were conducted from Hyde and Mott's Funeral Chapel, Hagersville on Monday with interment in Oakwood Cemetery, Simcoe. Rev. G. Taylor-Munro of Knox Church, Jarvis officiated. Pall bearers were: William Williamson, Chris Montague, Keith Stallwood, Robert Yule, Alex Duncan and Wary Walter.

The Minister continued - "society applauds, honours, and looks at the man, but without the woman who stands beside him, counselling him, babying him, constantly rebuilding his shattered parts and acting as a buffer for his tantrums and tempers he would be helpless and sadly lacking. The modern mother is called to a most difficult task - that of training a new generation in the ways of chastity, temperance and justice. Some mothers are ill-prepared for this role (which can be seen in the chaos of our present world order). Notwithstanding this failure, he said, there is no one better and more capable to teach children and lay a proper foundation for character building - then the God-given Christian mothers of our land. With mothers' role well done, Children will rise up and call her blessed, her husband also, and he praiseth her." Mothers of this calibre will never die, but will live forever in lives yet unborn. The climax of the services in both congregations was in the ceremony of honouring the oldest mother present in each congregation. At Garnet Mrs. Pearl Parkinson was honoured and presented with a lovely pin, while at Wesley Mrs. Pearl Reynolds was honoured in like manner. The service was brought to a close with the hymn, "Happy the home when God is there" followed by the benediction.
