

Around And About Cayuga

by Helen Hobbs
There will be a fashion show later on in April at the Rural Youth Center, Kohler, sponsored by the Rebekah Lodge, Cayuga.

Mrs. Delbert Holly and Susan of Peterborough are spending the school holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Mansland, Cayuga St. The Cayuga Skating Club held their family night Saturday March 27 at the Memorial Arena with over 500 in attendance, which qualifies it as a success.

The figure skating class of 125 were all in costume and displayed their abilities under the guidance of their two teachers, Miss Alice Foster of Cayuga and Miss Yvonne Kragten of Caledonia.

There were 11 door prizes donated by local merchants. The children presented their teachers with gifts. The guest skaters were also presented with gifts. The mothers would like to thank one and all for their help in this worthwhile cause, and with their goodly gate receipts go on to bigger and better things next year. Who knows! - we might have a Barbara Ann Scott or a Don Jackson in the making.

Wise, Unwise And Otherwise"

NO ONE EXPECTED EASTER

The resurrection of Jesus from the dead was the most unexpected event in human history. Only the Roman and Jewish authorities did not expect it. For them a wandering preacher had been crucified because he might provoke trouble by claiming himself the Messiah. Now that danger was permanently out of the way. However, he was spoken of rising again so a guard was set to prevent followers from stealing the body and saying he had risen. Humanly speaking, no one could get at the body. His disciples did not really expect Him to rise from the dead. They may have hoped he would come down the cross, but that hope was gone. He was dead and buried. People so disheartened were not likely to steal the body and proclaim an impostor. They had forgotten He had said He would rise again, they were utterly confident. The women even went to embalm His body. He was dead and buried - finished.

But the unexpected happened. The exact order of events is hard to figure out, here is the way Edersheim tells them: - The guard saw an angel and fled in terror. The angel rolled the stone from the door. Mary Magdalen the first to arrive at the tomb, saw the tomb empty and saw the angel who told them He was risen. They would meet them in Galilee. At Mary Magdalen's Peter and John ran to the tomb, saw it was empty and came out. Mary was outside and saw someone whom she thought to be the gardener and she only suspected him of stealing the body and asked he had put it. Then the person spoke and she immediately recognized Jesus. She went back and told the apostles she had seen Jesus.

After this first initial encounter He was seen by three. There were two disciples on the road to Emmaus, Peter (alone), and at least twice to the Apostles in the Upper Room. St. Paul says He was seen by over 500 at one place.

The Jewish leaders persuaded the guard to say the body was stolen and offered to square things with Pilate. The story does not end there. The Jewish leaders only accepted His resurrection as a fact and not the fact of it. They did arrest Peter and John, were utterly unrepentant and vowed to proclaim His resurrection even more forcibly. The Jewish leaders did not accuse them of lying but told them not to do so.

So the unexpected happened and the continued faith of the Church all over the world is a further proof of the truth of the story.

Ontario Place On Schedule

TORONTO - "Ontario Place is right on target towards its May 22 opening date," reports the Honorable Allan Grossman, Minister of Trade and Development.

Carpenters, plumbers, electricians, technicians, landscape architects and squads of other workers are putting the final touches to the new 96-acre entertainment and exhibition complex.

At the moment, in the dome-shaped Cinesphere theatre, carpeting has been laid, and the 800 armchair seats are being fitted into place. The giant 90 x 110-foot Cinesphere screen on which 60 x 80 foot images will be projected, has been installed. The screen and the 57-speaker stereophonic sound equipment are now being tested, in readiness for use with the four new film spectaculars which will be shown to Ontario Place visitors.

In four of the five pods of the Ontario Place pavilion, multi-media exhibits are being installed, involving 300 miles of wiring, connecting 43 motion picture projectors, 54 slide projectors and over 200 speakers.

In the pavilion's Pod Two, three restaurants and their kitchens, a licensed lounge and banquet facilities are taking shape.

Construction is proceeding at The Forum, where seating for 2,000 is being built. Girders are up for the octagonal plastic canopy which will shelter the theatre and stage. There will also be room on the adjoining contoured slopes for 6,000 other people to watch the daily programs of live entertainment to be performed at this classic Greek-style outdoor amphitheatre.

Final dock assembly is shortly to take place, completing the 292-slip Ontario Place Marina, one of the largest on the Great Lakes.

Gaily-colored clusters of buildings are now in evidence throughout the man-made islands. These will be the groups of boutiques, snack bars and restaurants which will serve visitors to the site.

By opening day, almost 30,000 trees, shrubs and plants will be in the ground, adding their beauty to the 17 acres of parkland. Final sodding is soon to be carried out to complete the grassy knolls and lawn-like picnic land. Birch, oak, pine, poplar, larch, spruce and cherry trees are being brought in at the moment from forests near Barrie, Ontario. Some trees are 35 feet tall, and with their accompanying ball of earth to protect the roots, weigh up to four tons.

"Ontario Place is the most exciting project taking place in Canada today," says Mr. Grossman, "and we, as Ontarians, can be proud that this dynamic new presence will be part of this province and its people."
