

The Weeklies Say

GREENER FIELDS

Robert Higgins, the Opposition financial critic, provided a reasonable lead-off in the budget debate in the provincial assembly and thereby he did himself no harm in his likely quest for the leadership of the Liberal party when the post becomes vacant this year after Mr. Robichaud departs for greener and brighter pastures in Ottawa. - Campbellton (N.B.) Tribune

PASSED INTO HISTORY

In this age of rapid progress it seems that anything that no longer serves an immediate useful purpose must be cast aside to make room for the new and exciting. However, it did come as a bit of a shock that the Stanstead College Cadet Corps had been discontinued and a tradition of more than half a century had come to an end. Perhaps, in the very modern sense, cadets no longer have a necessary function. Yet, it seems as if a school will lose something in the passing of a cadet corps, even if it is just a show of military precision and a colorful ceremony. Stanstead (Que.) Journal

MUST JOIN

To be popular with Indian militants it appears one must hold views similar to those of Edmonton's Doug Cuthand. He declares himself proud that his ancestors broke treaties and fought in the 1885 rebellion. He is quoted as saying: "My grandfather killed a couple of white guys. I feel good about that." The Indians themselves must start joining in the search for the middle ground if they truly expect to see any great improvement in relations. - Swift Current (Sask.) Sun

A BORE

It is most unfortunate that the majority of "early bird radio announcers," as they start the day at 6 a.m. feel that their most important duties are: a. A complete report of their health; b. Their last night's activities. Both these subjects... are a pain, a bore, a waste of time and frustrating topics that are of no interest to listeners. - Innisfail (Alta.) Province

A NATION HOPES

If... musings become reality, then Mr. and Mrs. Trudeau will undoubtedly join the thousands of Canadian couples who question the federal government's contention that a wee one can be raised for $300 per year... Once again, unrestrained best wishes to both of them. May the experience of their happy union reflect upon the T-4 forms of the nation. - Cariboo (B.C.) Observer

LOSING GROUND?

It would be foolish to suggest that the era of "boob-tube domination" is completely over. However, there is a substantial number of signs that the 21-inch monster is losing his grip. One obvious indication of the trend is the increased attendance at a rapidly growing number of community-wide activities. - Chilliwack (B.C.) Progress

DOVER - Grace Church in Port Dover was the scene of a spring wedding when Christine Buck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Mitchell, and Mrs. Roy of Jarvis, Rev. G. Munro of Jarvis officiated in the presence of 150 guests.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length gown of Chantilli Lace with an Empire Waist and a graceful train. Seed pearls enhanced her boat neckline. Her full sleeves were gathered to lily point cuffs. Her headpiece, which was accented with seed pearls, held her shoulder length veil. She carried red roses and white gardenias.

Maid of honor was Joyce McKnight of Port Dover. Bridesmaids were Darlene Wilson, niece of the groom and Debbie Buck, sister of the bride. Flower girl was Cheryl Wilson, niece of the groom. Ring bearer was Scott Buck, brother of the bride.

The maids were all gowned identically in floor length gowns with red velvet skirts and white lace tops.

Best Man was Jim Church of Jarvis. Other gentlemen attendants were Bert Mitchell, brother of the groom and Marc Buck, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Legion auditorium.

A dance followed with 150 attending. Music was by the County Drift-Woods.

Minor Hockey

by Pete Myke

In the past week the last of our Minor hockey teams bowed out of OMHA competition when the Hagersville Bantams dropped three straight games to Uxbridge.

Wednesday night Hagersville lost 11-4 in the first game. Paul Townsend scored three goals and Richard Van Eyke got the fourth one.

On Friday night the boys boarded a bus and travelled to Uxbridge where they lost 12-4. Again Paul Townsend did his share by scoring three goals with Van Eyke picking up the other one. In each game it appeared as if Glen Jonathan had a case of the jitters as he was beaten time and again by shots that he had handled easily all winter. With a lot of fans down on this young lad, we all forget that his steady style of goal tending had carried this Bantam club farther than any other minor hockey team had ever went in play-off action before from Hagersville.

Coach Mike Salvatore figured a change was in order so on Saturday night Glen Helka started in goal for Hagersville and for a while it looked like Mike had found the answer as Hagersville jumped into a 2-0 lead. Paul Townsend scored his seventh goal of this series which is quite a remarkable feat. Jim Nagel got the second and last goal for Hagersville while doing an excellent job of checking the visitors big gun Doug Newton. Newton had been a one man show this whole series scoring 12 goals and picking up eight assists. The boys' father and coach was simply amazed to learn Jim Nagel was just a pee wee hockey player doing such a fine job of checking. He held No. 15 or No. 11 as he wore in this game to just two goals, but again his team mates picked up three others to hand our boys a 5-2 defeat and end their dreams of Ontario Champions.

Paul Townsend and Paul Fryett played very well and did a fine job of killing penalties. Bill Nagel and Glen Helka stood out in a losing cause. Mike Salvatore did a tremendous job all year and showed real sportsmanship by saying, "We got beat by a real good team and a better team that was real hot for this series." Later on Mike said he was very proud of his team and that they never once quit trying.

With close to 300 paid admissions the boys held a draw for a box of groceries which was won by Jim Misener. The boys are hoping to raise enough money to buy jackets so anyone wishing to contribute any amount would be greatly appreciated by Mike and Mr. Jonathan who as manager of this team did a lot of work all year that does not show up.

The local Juveniles are entering a tournament in Milton this week so we will pass along the results next week. Mr. Ken House, uncle of the Juvenile Manager won the draw put on by the Juveniles. "We will have to look into this."
