

The Cayuga Bridge was opened this week for light traffic. Work crews are still repairing damage to the bridge but have got sufficiently ahead to allow single lane traffic across the bridge. A load limit of three tons has been imposed on the bridge. (Staff Photo)

Like Computers

TORONTO (CP) — Just two seconds. That's how long it takes a couple of two-legged computers with the Toronto police department to check through 2,500 licence plate numbers. They're looking for stolen vehicles and they're pretty good at it too. Last year Constables Robert Marchetti, 33, and Donald Reesor, 36, recovered an average of one

Hospital Emergency - Night And Day Ready To Help

You've been in the emergency waiting room quite a while. There's not a great deal to do. And your toe hurts where the box you'd been carrying fell on it last night. Didn't hurt much at first but now it does, a steady throbbing ache. Swollen too. You figure maybe it's broken. Why don't they hurry up? After all, you're paying for hospital insurance and you're entitled to service. And, of course, you're right to want the best service you can get.

Of course, it's hard to think about that when you're bleeding, or your toe is throbbing. But maybe your toe will hurt less if you think of the troubles other people have. And you're not really being ignored. You get attention. The very best.

Story Hour At The Hagersville Library

In Hagersville, an enthusiastic group of residents of the town and nearby townships met last week to form The Library Guild.

The Guild plans to work in conjunction with the library staff and the library board to increase the scope of activities and facilities that the Hagersville Public Library is able to offer to residents of all ages, from both the town and the surrounding district.

The first project to which the group has turned its attention is a story hour for pre-school and kindergarten children, aged three to five. This experimental program will begin at 10:30 a.m., Sat., April 24, at the library, and, if there is sufficient interest shown, the story hour will become a regular library feature.

Bring your youngsters to the library, where they can enjoy stories, games, and songs, while making everlasting friends in the wonderland of books.

Chinese Cooking

There is nothing quite like Chinese-style food, yet many of the most popular Chinese dishes are easy to prepare and you need no special pots or pans. So why limit your family to an occasional treat at a Chinese restaurant when you can prepare quite an authentic meal for them to enjoy at home, between those "let's eat out" days.

Good organization is really the secret of success when preparing Chinese-style food. Get all of your ingredients ready, vegetables chopped, sauces made, etc., then assemble and cook as directed. The Chinese like their vegetables tender-crisp so avoid overcooking and serve the food as soon as it is ready.

For your first meal, try either the Sweet and Sour Pork or the Pork Chow Mein recipes given below and serve with the Garlic Ribs and Pork Fried Rice. If you like, start the meal with hot consomme garnished with sliced green onions or with Chinese Egg Rolls which you will find in the frozen food section at your store.

Serve fruit and cookies for dessert, and Chinese tea if you like. For added fun make you own "fortune cookies." Simply write out a few appropriate fortunes and wrap each in foil with a cookie.

SWEET AND SOUR PORK

1 1/2 pounds lean boneless pork (shoulder, loin or tenderloin); 1 tablespoon vegetable oil; salt and pepper; 1 (19-ounce) can pineapple chunks; 2 tablespoons cornstarch; 1-1/3 cup brown sugar; 1 cup pineapple juice; 1/3 cup vinegar; 1 tablespoon soya sauce; 1/2 cup sliced green onions; toasted almonds.

Cut pork into cubes or strips. Heat oil in a heavy skillet and brown meat nicely on all sides; season with salt and pepper.

Drain pineapple chunks and reserve syrup. Combine cornstarch and brown sugar in a saucepan; stir in pineapple juice and reserved syrup. Cook and stir until mixture boils and is thickened. Remove from heat and add vinegar and soya sauce. Pour over browned meat; cover pan. Simmer over low heat until meat is tender (20 to 30 minutes).

About half way through the cooking time, add the pineapple chunks. Then add sliced green onions for last five minutes of cooking time. Transfer to heated serving dish and garnish with toasted almonds. Serve at once. Makes about four servings.

PORK CHOW MEIN

3 tablespoons vegetable oil; 1/2 cup blanched whole almonds; 1 pound lean boneless pork (shoulder, loin or tenderloin); salt and pepper; 1/2 cup coarsely chopped onion; 1 cup sliced celery; 1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms; or 1 (4 1/2-ounce) can sliced mushrooms; drained; 1 (19-ounce) can bean sprouts, drained; 1 chicken bouillon cube; 1 cup boiling water; 1 tablespoon cornstarch; 1 tablespoon soya sauce; 4 ounces chow mein noodles.

Heat oil in a large heavy skillet; add almonds and brown nicely, stirring frequently. Remove from pan and set aside until needed.

Cut pork into thin strips, and add to pan; brown nicely on all sides and season with salt and pepper. Add onion, celery and mushrooms; saute for five minutes, stirring frequently.

Walpole North Home And School Association

The regular meeting of the Walpole North Home and School Association was held April 5 in the general purpose room of the school. The business session was conducted by the president, Mr. Art Winger. A nominating committee, consisting of Mr. Winger, Mr. Copeland, and Mr. Steen was chosen. Committees for the booths for field day and play day were arranged, as well as a committee to organize the Grade 8 supper.

The guest speakers, Mr. J. Fransen, director of education, Mr. E. Smith, superintendent, and Mr. Bruce King, secretary of the Haldimand County School Board were introduced by Mr. David Steen.

Mr. King outlined the distribution of grants for Elementary and Secondary Schools, and explained

Then add bean sprouts and bouillon cube dissolved in the boiling water (or use 1 cup chicken stock). Cover and simmer over low heat for five to seven minutes.

Combine cornstarch and soya sauce until free of lumps. Add to pan and bring mixture to a boil, stirring gently. Fold in browned almonds. Spoon over noodles on heated serving dish. Makes about four servings. (Note: For Pork Chop Suey, omit the noodles.)

reasons for government guidelines for education spending.

Mr. Fransen discussed individual differences in children and some of the provisions which are made to accommodate these differences in the schools of Haldimand County. He also mentioned a new class for perceptually handicapped children which will be in operation in September of 1971.

Mr. Smith explained the provision for individual differences and interests at the Secondary School level, and explained briefly the credit system being introduced in the Secondary Schools.

A question and answer period followed. Lunch was served by some of the room mothers.
