

Your Chance To Be Informed

The final summer refresher meeting comes to Jarvis and Walpole Presbyterian Churches on Aug. 29. Planned at Knox, Jarvis for 10 a.m. to allow faithful church-goers to get to their 11 a.m. service.

Resource People for this final or third Sunday morning are Robert M. Bateman and Amadi Ogbonah, both authorities on cultural affairs in Nigeria, Africa. These two young men are bringing with them slides, cultural artifacts, and the answer to your questions about the probable destiny of this Federation of several tribes of people in the years following what was considered an ideal evolving from Colonialism into Nationhood, followed by a terrible, destructive civil war... What now?!

Mr. Robert Bateman has a Master's degree in Geography, is an accomplished wild-life painter, using acrylics rather than oil paints. During 1956-58, Mr. Bateman drove around the world, using a Landrover in company with Dr. Bristol Foster, director of British Columbia Museum. Teaching in Burlington Secondary Schools during the past five years Mr. Bateman has served for one year as a full time art consultant for Halton County, is a Director of Federation of Ontario Naturalists. For two years during 1963-65 Mr. Bateman taught in secondary school levels in Eastern Nigeria. So we can appreciate the kind of academic assistance Mr. Bateman can give to Mr. Amadi Ogbonah, a 23-year-old member of the Ibo People whose ordinary habitat is Eastern Nigeria.

Mr. Amadi Ogbonah is a graduate of grade 12, is planning to complete grade 13. His education was interrupted by the Nigerian Civil War. He hopes to enter pre-med. university and return at completion of graduate training as a gynecologist to his beloved homeland in Africa.

Meanwhile, this young man is finding a warm, human, encouraging Canadian home atmosphere with his sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bateman and their three pre-school children, Alan, Sarah and Jonathon, at their home just below Campbellville.

The public is welcomed to this third and final of our informative 45 minute sessions - 10 a.m. at Knox, Jarvis - 11 a.m. at Chalmers Stone Church, corner of No. 3 Highway and Cheapside Rd.

There will be a freewill offering to clear mileage and incidental expenses of the resource people. The local minister, Rev. Taylor-Munro, explains that instead of going away this summer on a refresher course he has arranged for some of the best resource people to come to the parish where the benefits can be shared with the local community.

In addition to a display of Nigerian cultural artifacts, Mr. Bateman and Mr. Ogbonah will show the difference between the Nigerian tie-dying of shirts, slacks etc., to that of the Canadian hippy style. Those who are interested may bring their bucket or basin, their article of clothing, their colouring, string, thread or elastic.

One of the advantages of this series of three workshops has been that those who attend can receive first-hand the facts about such widely located interest points in today's world as Formosa; China; Cdn. Indians; Nigerians, Africa;

Your active interest is cordially invited.

Selkirk Provincial Park Gets New Sign

Although Selkirk Provincial Park is a relatively new and unknown Provincial Park, they have a very distinctive feature in the form of a new entrance sign. It is one of the first of these signs to be constructed in the province and makes a very attractive addition to the park at Selkirk. Selkirk Provincial Park is located three miles west of the village of Selkirk and about seven miles east of the new Hydro Electric Generating Station at Nanticoke.

There are 167 campsites, 55 of which have electrical hook-ups for trailers. There is a large stand of pure shagbark hickory (a distinctive feature in itself), a marsh area where all types of wildlife abounds, swimming beach, picnic area with parking for 600 cars and a boat launch ramp. The park is comprised of 168 acres facing on Lake Erie.

In the past week, Selkirk Provincial Park has changed Park Superintendants. Mr. R.E. Madill is now the new superintendent of the park. Mr. Charbonneau, the former superintendent has been transferred to the Pinery Provincial Park.

Plants must be watered regularly - not according to a timetable but whenever the soil is dry. A light sprinkling every night will only encourage shallow rooting and subsequent drought damage. Give the garden a good soaking to a six to 10-inch depth. Plants in shade require less watering than those in the sun. Fast growing plants require more water since plants absorb all their food in liquid form. After pruning, plants can be kept drier than usual. Water when new growth develops. Horticulturists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food recommend application of a six-inch mulch of straw or grass clippings before you leave on vacation to retain moisture and regulate soil temperature. Drying winds can rob plants of moisture unless the soil can absorb and retain water for long periods. Don't ignore trees and shrubs which often form the background or frame of the garden. During any prolonged summer drought, a thorough soaking once or twice a week is needed. Water shrubs for as long as an hour. For large trees, water for two hours or more giving the ground a deep soaking.

SEES LITTLE CHANGE Sarnia, Ont. (CP) - A spokesman for the local branch of Alcoholics Anonymous says little change in the drinking habits of young people has been observed since the province's recent lowering of the drinking age. "My own personal opinion is that the 18 year olds have been drinking for quite a while anyway," the spokesman says.

Federation News

by Otto Crone
The Honourable E.C. Drury, founder of the Federation of Agriculture has recently been named to the Agriculture Hall of Fame for his many contributions in the field of agriculture.

Prior to the formation of the federation, Mr. Drury was leader of the political party, the United Farm Organization which held office for a short period of time. Upon defeat, he realized that the increasing minority of farmers could not hold a position of authority in government and thus initiated a farm lobbying agent which became known as the Federation of Agriculture. When lobbying did not prove to be effective, the Federation sponsored their own subsidiaries. Such was the case with the "Farm and Country" newspaper and CIAG insurance.

The "Farm and Country" gives the farmers of Ontario an unbiased news report on agricultural problems, discoveries and new methods. Since its first publication 36 years ago, it has moved from an era of much agricultural news competition to now being the only farm newspaper in Ontario. It has developed into Agriculture Publishing Company which operates independent of the federation. The OFA however, continue to support every farmer in the province with their copy and help in this financial strain for the benefit of all farmers. The first time since its inception the "Farm and Country" increasing its rates. The added cost will again be absorbed by the federation.

The federation was unsatisfied with standard insurance rates and as a result, they started their own insurance agency CIAG insurance. The continued to maintain reasonable rates and give with it's additional coverage and customers' present ranks among the ten largest in the province. The federation travelled a great distance since its founding and has strived and will continue to strive to aid farmers to the best of their ability.

The Honourable E.C. Drury certainly deserves recognition in the agriculture hall of fame. He founded an organization which has made great strides for Ontario farmers.

After three weeks and prepared for the upcoming playoff season in baseball as well as softball. With many of the boys attending hockey schools and being invited for tryouts can winter be far away?

CALEDONIA 6 HAGERSVILLE 5

It took two extra innings and a couple of tough breaks before the Hagersville Legion Pee-Wees lost their last game of the regular season to Caledonia by a score of 6-5. Henry Binek started for Hagersville and lasted one third of an inning giving up 5 runs 3 hits and four walks. Bill Winger came on to pitch sensational ball for 8 and two thirds innings allowing 18 batters. Their is rumor that Billy may be going to school somewhere else besides Hagersville. We sure hope it is not before the playoffs are over.

Ralph Awde led the attack with a double and two singles, Hal Brown had a double and single, while Ed Fagarty, Terry

Crawford, Dennis Smith, Phil Nie and Richard Salvatore all hit safely. The Pee-Wees ended up the season with a record of 10 wins and 6 losses to tie for first place. They will be playing the winners of the Western league for the S.C.B.A. championship. The boys are playing good ball and deserve your support so come out to the ball park and get behind these little fellows.

TEE BALL

The tee ball schedule has come to an end and the championship will be played this week. It was a real tussle right down to the last out before the Expos coached by Larry Smith, Bob Smith and Don McCarroll and many mothers beat out the Giants, coached by Bob Bain and Carl Sote. The Expos will meet Len Andersons Tigers for all the marbles, so watch for details
