Past Nobles Grands' Club Entertains

Members of the Past Noble Grands' Club of Simcoe District no.16 were guests of the Silver Star Lodge Club on Thursday evening at the IOOF Hall.

The regular meeting was presided over by the president, Nellie Miller and Secretary, Eileen Durant. The president welcomed all guests and opened with the poem "Here's a Welcome." Mary Keen conducted the devotional. Following the reading and approval of the minutes, Gladys Slater gave the treasury report. The president introduced our in-coming district deputy President, Dorothy Walker, who announced that the district meeting will be held later in June at the IOOF Hall, Jarvis.

Following the close of the meeting a social evening was enjoyed, including court whist, croquinoie, interspersed with a Mystery prize, lucky chair, exciting travel parcel and a lucky plate. Needless to say there were quite a number of prize winners which were well distributed among the various clubs. Barbara Philipps led in a sing-song with Lizzie Howard at the piano.

The evening concluded with a buffet lunch convened by several members of the hostess club. Bernice Collyer of the Simcoe club, on behalf of all the guests, moved a vote of thanks for the evening.

Dollars And Good Sense

by William J. Martin

Today it's time for a short refresher course in the art of saving money while shopping. Shopping, for those husbands unfamiliar with the task, is not an easy job. It takes much determination to avoid the many enticing impulse purchases appealingly displayed on the store shelves.

As I've said before, it all starts with a plan. Always prepare a shopping list and discipline yourself into sticking to it. But only what you really need and want — those items on the list. Nothing wrecks a family budget faster than emotional impulse buying.

But before I create the wrong impression, your list must be somewhat flexible. That is, one item which happens to be on sale can certainly be substituted for another. You must be careful to avoid adding to the list, but should be flexible enough to substitute one type for another.

I'm still amazed that half of today's grocery shoppers and nearly three-quarters of bakery buyers shop without a list. It's a group that must be avoided if you want to maintain a sensible spending plan and save money.

In preparing your list, learn the art of comparative shopping. Use the newspapers to find out what's being offered on special sale and plan your list and itinerary accordingly. Different grocery stores can vary as much as 15% or more in the prices they charge on brand name merchandise. Be a comparative shopper.

Finally, keep records of major purchases to help plan for future purchases. It helps you to keep from making the same mistake twice.

In any case — it's a good idea to keep all paper work for at least a few months in case you have trouble with the product or billing.

If you follow these tips, especially sticking to a shopping list and being a comparative shopper, you can amaze yourself at the results in your savings. You can turn a hard job into a much more pleasant task and be able to maintain a family spending plan at the same time.

Horse Club

The Horse Club had its first meeting at the home of Ben Allison, on April 1971. The members were welcomed by the Lofthouse. We were about the anatomy of a horse. We were informed the pedigree of the horse and studied at Ben Allison farm. An informal contest taught us about anatomy of the horse. Lunch was then served.

Haldimand At Haldimand its second meeting at the home where we had horses. The attendance was good and the minutes were read. We chose the Haldimand At Haldimand our club.

Our next meeting will be at the home of Alice Haldimand on June 28.

Quick Summertime Desserts

Summertime is great for eating outdoors. Your family will love backyard barbecue suppers and snacks.

Barbecues can be a lot of fun and little work for Mom if everyone pitches in and helps.

Give hamburgers a new flavor by seasoning the buns. Brush with melted butter the cut edges of buns and sprinkle with chives and dill. Toast to a golden brown.

The barbecue is Dad's job. Desserts are the fun part of any meal, especially if there is little kitchen preparation. Try one of these quick recipes for delicious desserts. The children can even help by making it while you put together the tossed salad.

Your bakery or local supermarket can supply you with all the delicious bakery and bread products you need for these recipes.

Cashew-Cheese Topped Apple Pie

1/2 cup cheese spread
1 - 3 1/2 ounce package cashew nuts
1 baker's apple pie
Whip cheese spread. Crush 1/3 of cashews and blend with cheese; roll into balls the size of walnuts. Stick remaining nuts into balls. Arrange balls on top of pie. Warm in hot oven before serving if desired.

Crunchy Nut Cherry Pie

3 tablespoons butter, melted
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup chopped pecans or walnuts
1 baker's cherry pie
Combine first 3 ingredients; spread over cherry pie. Place under broiler and broil 2-3 minutes.

Butterscotch Circles

Serves 7

1 package butterscotch pudding mix
2 1/2 cups milk
7 slices pound cake
Prepare pudding mix according to package directions using 2 1/2 cups milk. Cut 2 circles from each piece of pound cake. Place one circle on plate, top with some pudding then other circle and more pudding. To garnish, decorate with whipped cream.

Hagersville And Area Cancer Campaign

"Several hundred dollars more than last years total receipts for the April Cancer Canvaas, and we are very happy," said Campaign Chairman, Mrs. Alton Esselment. "This is certainly due to the volunteer canvassers, the displaying of cancer posters in the business district, also in many home windows, and the educational facts in press, on radio and television," she said. Total Campaign Receipts collected this year for this district were, — $2,250.

The provincial objective for Ontario alone was $3,900,000. with a total Canadian goal to be reached for 1971, of $6,770,080.

Dedicated scientists may never produce a "magic bullet" that will knock out, or prevent cancer, as was accomplished with diseases like polio and tuberculosis. Advances are being made in terms of the prolongation of life, and greater comfort for those who are stricken by cancer. Scientists are confident, through research an ultimate answer will be found.

Lucky Luncheon

Fried chicken, hot buttered carrots and onion rings, was the main course at the Community Centre at 1 p.m. on Wednesday, May 26.

The occasion was the lucky luncheon sponsored by the ladies of St. Andrews' Presbyterian Church, Hagersville.

Nearly one hundred ladies and gentlemen were welcomed by Mrs. Elvin Nixon, who in turn introduced the guest demonstrator.

Home Economist, Mrs. Betty McLean of Lucky Luncheons, Oakville, spoke briefly, and passed on some interesting household hints and ideas.

Rev. Adam Thomson, minister of St. Andrews', said grace, after which the luncheon was enjoyed.

Many of those attending, were lucky in winning a door prize — food products donated by the sponsors.

Triple And Executive Meet

A social evening of fun and games complete with a weiner roast, hot from the coals was discussed.

The Executive met Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gedy, Alma St. S., Hagersville.

Plans were made for the final meeting of the season, to be held June 19 in the form of a weiner roast, at the Haldimand County Park. It was also decided to once again have our famous Strawberry Social in June, or early July.

Members of the Executive present at this meeting were, Rev. and Mrs. Rule; Gladys and Alvin Hewitt; Jean and Robert Gedy; Edna and Alton Esselment; Margaret Henderson; Jane and Earl McConachie and Edward Heinrichs.

ADOPTION

PETERSON — Tom and Carole Peterson are pleased to announce the final adoption of their chosen daughter Kayla Ann.

INCREASED VALUE
