Twisted, warped, broken timbers and frame, was the result of wind damage at the construction site of Don Hyde Marina on Highway 6 just north of Hagersville.

This wind force, came Sunday evening June 20, around 7 p.m.

Howard Tolpon, 38, Everitt St., Windsor, escaped serious injuries Friday when his tractor-trailer unit crashed into three trees four miles east of here.

The tractor-trailer unit was practically demolished with damage estimated at $12,000. The truck and trailer unit was owned by Federal Trucking of Detroit.

Mr. Tolpon was treated for cuts and bruises and released from the West Haldimand General Hospital. The front tire of the tractor blew out to cause the accident, police said.

Const. Mike Tatarnix of Cayuga OPP investigated the crash reported at 1.15 p.m.

Pollution Substance Shown
As Evergreen Tree Pollen

NANTICOKE — Chemical analysis has proved a yellow substance discovered floating in the lake three miles east of here last week wasn't caused by industry or industrial waste.

Collin Hendry, public relations officer for Ontario Hydro, who was called last week to investigate the matter said their research facilities and other research people had discovered the substance was two-celled pollen grain from evergreen trees that grow in Pennsylvania.

"The substance must of blown or floated across the lake," he said.

Samples were sent to the Ontario Hydro Research Laboratory, the Ontario Water Resources Commission and the Agriculture Research Station at Simcoe.

The results from all the chemical tests showed the pollution was from vegetation.

Mr. Hendry said he had also talked to representatives from industry in Port Colborne who had also been alerted about a possible pollution from the same substance and also made tests. These tests showed the same results.

Another complaint handled by Mr. Hendry last Sunday also had research identify the substance as a vegetation with the same chemicals as the earlier tests.

Mr. Hendry emphasised that Ontario Hydro is very concerned about the environment and what possible effect that hydro or other industry might have on it.

"This is why Ontario Hydro has set up a $200,000 program to study the environment of air and water in the area.

Ontario Hydro was criticized last week because members of the Walpole Township Citizens Action Association said it hadn't acted fast enough about a warning of a substance floating on the lake that could be polluting it.

Mr. Hendry explained that he was on holidays and was in Brantford when he first received the call about the problem.

He drove his wife and children back to his home and then went out to the site on the lake. With all this I took over an hour and 35 minutes after the first call was received, he said.

He said that hydro people are on duty 24 hours a day to handle this type of problem because "we are very concerned about the environment," he said.

Mr. Hendry told The Record that he has been called on various occasions at all times of day and night

Hagersville Lions
Sponsor Poster Contest

Some excellent artistic talents, together with fine penmanship, and creative abilities, made the judging most difficult.

The Hagersville Lions Club sponsored and arranged a poster contest, advertising their 1st of July celebrations.

Many attractive posters were submitted for judging from students of grades five to eight.

Lion Roger MacKereith, principal of Parkview Public School, arranged for staff teachers to perform the task of judging the entries.

Results were: First—Karen Esselment, grade five student at Northview Public School; Second—Tod Hewitt, grade seven student at Parkview, and Third—Gail Harrop, grade eight student, also of Parkview.

These winning posters may be seen in the various store windows throughout the village. On display in other locations also, are some of the posters not selected as winners.

Prize money was: First—$5; Second—$3, and Third—$2.

Construction of a new building for the Don Hyde Marina took a beating from the wind last week. Shown is the twisted lumber that was left after the storm went through. (A Record Photo)
