O.F.A. executive member, James Jacklin was guest speaker at Haldimand's ISM meeting on Oct. 18.

Mr. Jacklin, a former O.F.A. fieldman, served this area about 20 years ago at the time of the organization of the Warble Fly eradication program. He returned for the evening with suggestions of ways to improve farm income.

A farmer himself, in Bruce County, Mr. Jacklin said we don't expect all our income in cash. We are prepared to accept part of it in the form of sunshine and fresh air. That's fine, sunshine and fresh air are great but we can't eat them nor can we live on them.

There are only two sources from which farmers can draw to improve their income. The market place or the government. From one of these sources there would have to come $400,000,000 to increase the average farm income by $1,000. We cannot hope to squeeze such a large amount from the government so it must come from the market place or increased efficiency combined with good management.

Producers of many commodities have already organized into marketing boards. No doubt producers of these commodities benefit more under their marketing systems than if they were in the jungle of free marketing. Many of these boards would be more effective if there were national agreements with other provinces.

Producers of commodities that are not organized all too often have to accept the price that a glutted market offers. Taking corn as an example, it is even difficult for the Federation to negotiate a value for duty on U.S. corn without a marketing board to regulate the supply here.

Progress is being made but it is slow. In the meantime many farmers are becoming discouraged. Mr. Jacklin feels what we need is a guaranteed "Get Well" card because our farm incomes must improve or there will be more "Farm for Sale" signs.

CAYUGA - When corn is $1 per bushel it is not economical to pay more than 77 cents for a bushel of barley. This information provided by Andy Bunn, swine specialist, is based on barley having 90 per cent of the feeding value of corn.

The excellent conditions this fall have made possible the application of a much larger tonnage of agricultural limestone. Most Haldimand clay soils require a periodic application of lime to correct the natural tendency of the soil to become acid. Treatment is important for the establishment of new seedlings containing legumes, alfalfa especially.

All Haldimand Beef Producers are invited to take part in a bus trip Nov. 11 to Union Stock Yards and Canada Packers, Toronto. The final stocker sale of the season will be taking place at the stock yards that morning. Those interested in taking part may get further details at the Haldimand agricultural office, Cayuga, phone 772-3381. Final date to reserve a seat is Nov. 6.

Information Centre Closes

The Information Centre at Ontario Hydro's Nanticoke Generating Station ended its third season of operation Oct. 31. Since April this year, 24,500 persons have visited the centre. Almost 5,500 people took advantage of the opportunity for a bus tour of the project on Sunday afternoons during June, July and August.

The centre welcomed 108,000 people to the project during the last three years.

Visitors to the Information Centre are shown films and displays. Guides explain the various stages of the development and the principles behind thermal-electric power production.

A viewing platform which offers an overall view of the project will remain open through the winter. A tape-recorder message explains the different features of the 4,000,000 kilowatt plant.

Teatime Topics

by Jean Sharp

There are a great many ways to prepare stuffing for poultry, using other meats, fruit, vegetables. The Bakery Foods Foundation has several suggestions for a change of pace, including an oyster stuffing.

It calls for: ½ cup butter, ½ cup chopped onion, 1 cup chopped celery, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 quarts ½ inch bread cubes, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ¾ cup hot water, 1 cup coarsely chopped, drained oysters.

Saute onion and celery in butter until transparent. Combine with next 3 ingredients.

Blend in next 2 ingredients, add oysters. Pack into a 1½-quart casserole, cover and bake in a 350-degree oven for 45 minutes.

COOK SEPARATELY
If you want to serve two or three different dressings with a bird, you can do it easily by cooking them separately in casseroles.

An old-fashioned poultry dressing that is enough for a 3-to 4-pound bird calls for: Turkey or chicken giblets chopped, 1 cup pure pork sausage browned, ¼ cup melted butter, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 2 cups bread crumbs, 2 cups mashed potatoes, ¼ cup chopped parsley, ¼ cup chopped celery, 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning, 1 cup sliced mushrooms (optional).

Combine all ingredients. If the dressing seems too dry, moisten with milk.

A celery stuffing that yields 6½ cups calls for: 3 tablespoons melted butter, 3 cups dry bread crumbs, 3 cups finely chopped celery, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon pepper.

Combine butter and bread crumbs. Add next ingredients. Pack into a 1½ quart casserole. Cover and bake in a 350-degree oven for 30 minutes.

USE FRUIT
An apple dressing is a little lighter than some other varieties.

To make 6½ cups, you need: One 8 ounce package of seasoned stuffing mix, 1 cup canned sliced apples, ½ cup raisins, ½ cup chopped celery, ½ cup grated carrots, ½ cup melted butter, ¾ cup orange juice, 1 beaten egg. Combine the first 6 ingredients.

Combine last 2 ingredients then blend with bread stuffing mixture.

Pack the stuffing into a 1½ quart casserole. Cover and bake in a 350-degree oven for 50 minutes or until fluffy and lightly browned.

Hagersville Library Gets Space To Expand

There is much excitement in the air these days for members of the Library Guild and other enthusiastic users of the Hagersville Public Library. The big news, of course, is the decision of the Hagersville Lions' Club to make the renovation of the old glove factory a project this year. This will include Scout and Cub facilities, and space for a young people's drop-in centre, as well as a large area for the library.

The library will now have space to expand, and room to use for more and varied services to the public. It is hoped such things as the continuation and expansion of the Story Hour, other youth activities, and possibly the beginning of an adult discussion group, either on the theme of Great Books, or Current Events can be accomplished.

Most of all, there should be an opportunity to respond to the declared needs and wants of the community, in whatever ways are appropriate and useful.

The Library Guild, which was formed to support and aid the library, is planning a general meeting for the evening of Nov. 18, at 8 p.m. in the Hagersville Library. There will be much to discuss, and the public is invited to attend and add ideas.

At this meeting, the winners of the Guild-sponsored Poster Contest will be awarded trophies. Children and teachers are reminded that the posters should be in to the Library by Nov. 12, for judging, and display during Library Week.

SILENT FILM TRICK
THOROLD, Ont. (CP) - Sgt. Don Hickey of the Thorold police department must have thought he was watching the re-run of a Laurel and Hardy movie when he walked out of the police station and saw a man running towards him through some 150 feet of freshly-poured concrete sidewalk, being pursued by several irate workmen. Joseph MacIntosh was fined $50 for causing a disturbance.
