Members of the Jarvis Women's Institute who attended the Hamilton Area Convention last week were Mrs. Harry Belbeck, Mrs. Robert Smuck, Mrs. Stanley Mitchell and Mrs. Ted Harris.

The Tony Dare family have moved into their new home on Lafayette St. in the new Eastern subdivision of Jarvis. Mrs. Marea Dare, of Venice, Italy, spent some months last winter with her family, all of whom (two sons and one daughter) reside in the Toronto area and Tony, in Jarvis. Mrs. Dare returned to Italy but decided to make her home in Ontario. She and her son from Pickering visited with the Tony Dares a week ago Saturday.

Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Nelligan of the A & M food store who have stepped up from the Lucky Dollar line of goods to the Red and White, which is one of the larger chain stores, independently owned, in North America.

The ladies of Knox Presbyterian Church served a most successful supper celebrating the 115th anniversary of Knox Church Jarvis. They were blessed with good weather as well as willing husbands and young people to make this a milestone worth remembering.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lowes and Mr. and Mrs. David Manson of Hamilton attended Knox Anniversary supper on Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Duncan and Mrs. James Davidson left on Tuesday for the West Coast and will attend the wedding of Willis Gardiner and Janet Louise Griffith in Trail, B.C. on Nov. 13, 1971.

Mrs. Walter Griffin and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Huffman of Hamilton visited with their mother, Mrs. Effie Huffman on the weekend.

Ronald De la Fosse, who met with a severe accident nearly two weeks ago, is still in intensive care in Hamilton General Hospital. We are happy to say he is showing day-to-day improvement and recognizes his wife, doctors and nurses, but cannot speak as yet. No visitors nor flowers are allowed until he is moved from his present room. He has noticed a few cards and his attendants are pleased with his progress.

Guest speaker at Cheapside Brethren in Christ Church on Sunday evening was Mrs. Elizabeth Barton Past President of the Women's Auxiliary of Hamilton Harbor Rescue Mission.

Canon Brooks was the special preacher last Sunday at the 20th anniversary of the Church of St. Philip By The Lake, Grimsby, which was founded while he was Rector at Grimsby. The first service was held Nov. 4, 1951.

At that time, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip passed through Grimsby on their royal tour. The cornerstone of the present church, contains a copy of a letter from the Queen, copies of the Bible and the Book of Common Prayer.

Following the service last Sunday, a reception was held in the Parish Room of the Church. St. Philip's is now an independent, self-supporting Parish.

The Christian Reformed Church, Jarvis, was the scene on Oct. 1, 1971, of a double ring ceremony when Ann Wobbes and Joe Helder exchanged marriage vows. Rev. D. C. Los officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anne Wobbes, of Jarvis, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Helder, also of Jarvis.

On either side of the pulpit were baskets of white gladioli and red roses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Spanish-style dress. Her bouquet was of white mums, red roses and white carnations. Maid of honor was Gretha Ouwendyk. The bride's sister, Mrs. Joan Fluit and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Carol Wobbes, were bridesmaids. Annette Wobbes, neice of the bride, was the flower girl.

The bride's attendants wore floor-length gowns of yellow satin covered with blue chiffon. Their head pieces were four little rosettes with a sheer veil. They carried bouquets of white carnations with red roses.

Attending the groom were Harry Helder, brother of the groom, as best man. Claude Helder, brother of the groom and Cecil Wobbes, brother of the bride, were the ushers. Robbie Helder, youngest brother of the groom, was ring-bearer.

A reception was held at the Port Dover Canadian Legion Hall for 125 guests. The bride's mother wore an orchid mauve dress with black accessories and corsage. The mother of the groom wore a plum purple dress with white accessories and a corsage.

For her going away outfit the bride chose a two-piece purple and silver pant suit with black accessories and corsage of white carnations and purple flowers with silver ribbon.

The couple will reside in Jarvis.

Action On Two Fronts

It was encouraging to note last week action is being placed on two fronts regarding the progress of the Haldimand-Norfolk area.

Nigel Richardson, director of the two-county plan, announced from Toronto that the plans for a new city, to be located somewhere in either of the two counties, are now before the provincial cabinet ministers. However, there is not likely to be too much action on these plans until after the legislature resumes session later this month.

Mr. Richardson said the plans were given to cabinet members prior to the election, but that nothing was done on them during the campaign.

He said it was unlikely the plans would be dealt with until two or three weeks after the cabinet resumes session. It would therefore seem that nothing will be done on the plans until mid-December.

The plans, according to Mr. Richardson, call for the creation of a new city that would eventually accommodate 100,000 persons. Land acquisition could begin almost immediately following the cabinet's approval of the venture, but development of the city would not likely begin until sometime in the 1970's.

It would be hoped that land acquired, presumably in land, would not be vacated, as in the case of the Steel Company of Canada's purchase in Haldimand County. The resulting decrease in population, while the government plans the new city, might be too much for the townships involved to bear while waiting for the anticipated increase in population.

Like many other projects and plans in the two counties, the new city hinges on the decision of Stelco to go ahead with its Lake Erie project.

The decision by Stelco to back-off on its project at the current economic condition revives and the general tax changes are implemented, expected by Jan. 1, 1972, has given many in the area a case of the jitters under if Stelco is going ahead at all.

However, last week, Alex Fisher, vice-president of Stelco's planning, engineering research, who has headed the Lake Erie project since inception, stated Stelco's planning is continuing and the start at Nanticoke is now a matter of timing.

The overdevelopment of the steel industry in the United States and in Japan has given Canada a good chance to learn from their mistakes and Stelco's study of what went wrong in those two countries reflects its concern with the development of this area. While that study was going on, Stelco has been busy bringing its Iron Works at Hamilton up to optimum production. It includes the recent approval of a $15 million expansion and improvement program at the Hilton Works that is scheduled for completion by the end of 73.

Stelco is also carefully assessing new technology in steel making that may well eliminate the need for the large blast furnaces with its resultant air pollutants, that mark to date the steel making facilities around the world. It would be the biggest bonus Stelco could make to the area to have its pollution controls, for both water and air, well within the provincial regulations. Indeed, if the new steel-making technology can be utilized to all but eliminate these two areas of pollution that are so much on the minds of all these days, Stelco could earn itself high regard among the steel-making nations of the world, along with the regard and respect of those who live in this area in the coming decades.

MIDDLE CLASS HIT HARDEST

Many politicians, as well as the laboring people themselves, appear to be unaware of the fact that any transference of taxation from sales tax and other sources will hit particularly hard the largest number of income payers. . . . While many residents appear to think that the income tax is going to hit the men in higher income brackets, many do not realize they are in that bracket and they are the ones who will be doing the paying. In the eyes of Ottawa, it appears the great middle class contains the people from whom it is the easiest to collect the tax. And that is what is being done. —Fort Frances (Ont.) Times
