Haldimand Junior Farmer News

EARTH DAY

On Saturday afternoon, Sept. 18, if you happen to see a couple of trucks decked out with signs buzzing down the Rainham Road between Rainham Centre and Lamb's Corners, and/or piles of kids and garbage on the roadsides — don't be alarmed. It's only the Junior Farmers' Earth Day clean-up.

The purpose of these goings-on is to clean-up along one of the roads that will be used for the International Plowing Match, and also, to raise funds for our organization's projects.

Our Earth Day clean-up project will work on the same lines as a Walkathon except: 1. the participants collect sponsors for "so much a pound" and 2. Four to six people will cover both sides of the road, collecting garbage, for a one mile stretch. So don't be surprised if your friendly neighborhood Junior Farmer comes calling at your door seeking sponsors!
