The children have thoroughly enjoyed friends. themselves, because they have been learning about farming, in a way, most urban children don't. They have had the opportunity to take an active part in a farm life for one week, by living on a farm.

They now know that milking cows, haying, etc. is work and not a big picnic. They have also forgotten some of their old ideas of farmers being hickish and backward and have now better understanding of how a farm community operates.

The farms that volunteered and visited, during July, in Haldinand County are Ross Bingelman, R. R. 2, isherville, Peter Fune, R.R. I, Canfield, Jospeh Howie, R.R. 3. Caledonia, John Klein, Dunnville, Gerald Mc-Kenzie, R.R. 1, Selkirk, Arthur Winger, R.R. 4, Hagersville and George Wodskou, R.R. 3, Hagersville.

The urban children had a great time at these farms and learn-ed a lot as well as making food friends. The exchange back to the city was discovered to be enjoyable by the rural children. Living in large city is not the ame as in the country and both good and bad oints were brought out. Now the rural childen understand how aproximately 80 per cent the population lives Canada. The return isit was optional beuse it was impossible some children to et away due to summer rm activities.

Farms are being ned up for exchanges n Aug. 1 to 8 and Aug. 15 to 22. If any farm mily would like to ost Aug. 15 to 22,
