

Jarvis Red Cross

Holds Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Jarvis Branch of the Canadian Red Cross was held at the home of Mrs. Earl Marr on Jan. 25.

Mrs. Cora McKenzie, president, called the meeting to order with Mrs. Ross Dosser reading the minutes of last year's annual meeting. These were approved as read. The treasurer's report had been audited by Jean Holland of the Jarvis Branch of the Imperial Bank of Commerce.

The Community Chest donation last year amounted to $248.61, which was forwarded to Toronto on June 25. Cash on hand in Jarvis bank as of Dec 31 was $38.22.

Discussion arose as to whether Jarvis branch would carry on as membership is very small.

Also suggested was that, if the annual meeting were held in a public building, at night there might be a larger attendance. This was undecided.

Officers elected for 1972: Mrs. Cora McKenzie, president, Mrs. Harry Belbeck, vice-president, Mrs. Ross Dosser, secretary, Mrs. R. A. Miller, treasurer, Jean Holland, Auditor.

Rev. Paul Nigh, of Springvale, was the officiating minister for the wedding in Cheapside Brethern-in-Christ Church on Saturday Jan. 29, at 4 p.m., when Sandra Louise Mayers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Mayers of Selkirk, formerly of Hamilton, became the bride of Robert Van Brocklin, of Cheapside son of Mrs. Martin Giesbers of Simcoe and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Weaver of Cheapside.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her attendant was her sister, Mrs. B. Sanislo, of Hamilton. The best man was the groom's friend Wray House. About 45 guests attended at the church.

Following the reception held at the Cove Room, Port Dover, for about 30 guests, an informal get-together was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Giesbers in Simcoe.

The couple left on a honeymoon trip to points in southern United States. On their return they will reside in Hagersville where the groom is employed at Hagersville Tire Service.

Previous to the wedding, the bride was honored by two showers Beverly Hoover and Beth Van Brocklin were hostesses at the home of Beverley Hoover and Mrs. Giesbers entertained at her home in Simcoe.
