

Reeves Returned In Jarvis, Hagersville, Walpole

While reeves of the municipalities of Walpole, Jarvis and Hagersville are getting off without a fight this year, election contests have shaped up for council in Walpole, Jarvis and Cayuga.

Reeve Dr. William Austin was acclaimed in Jarvis, Reeve Gordon Miller in Walpole and Reeve John Kincaid in Hagersville. Each will be serving his second term in that office.

In Jarvis, five men are seeking four council seats. J. C. Brinnell, James Davidson, Clifford McBride and Klaas Druyff are all incumbents and Charles E. Oldham, a former councillor is also contesting a seat on council.

In Walpole, the deputy-reeve's chair is being contested by incumbent Bruce Meehan and president of the Walpole Township Citizen's Action Association Howard Nicklin.

The three council seats in Walpole are being sought by seven persons. Blake Field, and W. C. Evans, incumbents, are seeking a return to council. Harold Nie was nominated, but declined.

The seats are also being sought by Ernie Welt, of R. R. 2 Nanticoke; Dorothy Laurek, of Nanticoke; James Cole, of Selkirk; Phil Hare, of R. R. 2 Nanticoke and David Burrows, of Nanticoke.

Cayuga will be having a contest both for reeve and council posts.

Incumbent Reeve Ted Powell is being challenged by Ken Best, Haldimand's agricultural representative.

Six persons are contesting the four council positions available, with one incumbent council member Phil Neary, declining nomination.

Those running for council are incumbents Robert Dell, C. A. Baird and Gwendolyn Smith, along with George Abercrombie, A. B. George and James Anderson. Claire Kimball was nominated but declined.

The two positions of hydro commissioners were filled by incumbents E. S. Allen and H. E. Reece.

In Hagersville, Deputy - Reeve Ross Sloty did not stand for nomination and Coun. Norman Crawford, who was nominated for both deputy-reeve and councillor, declined the councillor nomination and will now be the new deputy-reeve.

Another face will be missing from the Hagersville council ranks, that of veteran councillor Nick Basili, who has served for 15 years out of the last 17 years. He decided not to run for council.

Cloyce Sitter, who was nominated for council, decided not to

See Page 7, Col. 4

Vol. 95 No. 46

Thursday, November 16, 1972

10¢ a copy

Hagersville Plans Revamp Of Loitering, Parking Bylaws

HAGERSVILLE (Staff) A toughening of Hagersville's bylaw regarding loitering and parking will be given immediate council attention.

Hagersville Police Chief Warren Burger Monday night presented council with two updated bylaws, which he has been working on for the past several months.

The anti-loitering bylaw would give police powers to prevent loitering along the village's streets and park areas.

Chief Burger said the bylaw would act as a "buffer" between unlawful assembly and a riot. A person who refused to move when so instructed by the police could be subject to arrest.

The chief said he had taken the relative parts of the bylaw from a similar bylaw used in Dundas.

The proposed traffic bylaw will update a number of bylaws that have been in use for several years, some of which will be discarded and others will have more "teeth put in them," he said.

The bylaw will give the village the power to designate parking spaces, along with a description of the type of parking allowed (for cars or heavy vehicles) and where parking would be prohibited.

The bylaw also suggested that one hour parking be allowed on the main streets of the village, instead of the present two hour limit.

Chief Burger said this would give "all an opportunity to park and make it easier for the police to enforce."

Other suggestions, among many, would be to limit parking in front of the Post Office to 15 minutes and to prohibit the parking of trailers, house trailers or vehicles in excess of 5,000 pounds on residential streets.

School zones would also be designated under the proposed bylaw, along with proper pavement markings.

Sidewalk sales would be prohibited, except in special cases and then a permit would have to

See Page 3, Col. 3

Bell Proposal Means Hike For Jarvis

Basic residence telephone rates in the Jarvis exchange would go up five cents a month in 1973 and 30 cents a month in 1974 if the Canadian Transport Commission approves increases asked by Bell Canada Friday, Nov. 10.

Proposed increases were included in applications "A", to take effect in 1973, and "B" to be introduced in 1974.

The 1973 application asked for increases in basic rates, service charges, long distance rates and other services such as extensions.

The 1974 application includes proposed increases in basic rates, service charges, long distance and pay phone rates, extensions, and a new 25-cent charge for some calls to directory assistance.

R. J. Munro, Bell manager in this area, said increases allowed Bell by the CTC last May are being largely offset by increased operating costs beyond its control.

The company says relief through a rate increase is needed to avoid construction cut-backs and deferrals.

Service charges would double in two stages, with a 50 per cent increase in 1973 and a further one-third increase in 1974. Present rate for a new residence phone installation is $11. This would go to $16.50 next year and $22 in 1974.

Increases proposed for 1973 long distance would apply only to the initial charge period and only on calls within Bell

See Page 7, Col. 1

Long Distant Balloon

Craig Werner, of R. R. 3 Jarvis, last month was out in his field combining when he spotted a bright green balloon and stopped to pick it up.

The balloon had Winnebago County Bank, Omro, Wisconsin written on it and Mr. Werner decided to write to the bank and find out why one of their balloons would end up in his field.

Last week he received a letter from the president of the bank,

C. P. Pomeroy, explaining that a number of balloons had been released by the bank during ceremonies to mark the opening of a new branch.

The letter explained the balloons were sent up Oct. 11 and the president expressed surprise that one had travelled so far.

Mr. Werner estimates that the balloon had travelled 450 miles, in

See Page 7, Col. 3

Biting cold rain, snow and sleet that slammed through the area Monday night and Tuesday failed to slow work on Hagersville's west end sewer and water construction project. Robert Simon Construction, of Waterford, is the contractor for the project. (Staff Photo)

Hurricanes Win Fourth Zone Championship

The Hagersville Hurricanes won their fourth straight zone championship by nosing out the Cayuga Warriors 38-37 in a two game total point playoff.

This game was played in Hagersville Friday afternoon before a large and noisy crowd.

Cayuga handed Hagersville the first loss of the season by a score of 25-14 but they had lost the first game 24-12 last week.

This was as close a game as you could get as the Warriors were on the march for the winning or at least the tieing point when time ran out.

Brad Anderson led the Warriors with two touchdowns. Don Ecker scored a third. Joe Timson made a two point conversion and a field goal.

Cayuga also picked up a safety touch to round out their scoring.

Anthony Yacobino again showed why he is a team leader as he scored all his team's points. Tony scored on runs of 55 and 35 yard besides a two point conversion.

This gave Hagersville the Southern Ontario Zone Two Championship. The boys were given the traditional ride around town on the fire truck with a long parade of cars following.

Tuscarora Sewers Planned

HAGERSVILLE (Staff) An engineering study of the cost of extending a sewer main down Tuscarora St., in the village's east section will be undertaken in order that three residences can be hooked into the sewage system.

A delegation approached Hagersville Council Monday night asking if the sewers could be extended, since work was now underway in the west end of the village.

Reeve John Kincaid noted that the extension of a sewer down Tuscarora St. had been discussed at the last council meeting, but that since a delegation had appeared requesting the extension, the project would be speeded up.

He said Tuscarora St. is one of two remaining areas in the east section of the village still not hooked up to sewer mains.

Reeve Kincaid said it was possible the project might be hampered by the department of the environment, which is prohibiting all further residential development in the village until the sewage treatment plant capacity can be increased.

Coun. Nick Basili felt that a project such as this would not need department approval, but could be considered as "infilling," which the department has indicated can be done.

In other business council decided to commend year's tax a qua

Se