

Friends N' Neighbors

by Jessie Miller
587-2569

Mrs. R. A. Miller attended the film showing at South Walpole School on Friday evening. Also noticed in the crowd was Dorothy Hoover of Peel St., Jarvis.

Mrs. Fred Roulston is a patient in West Haldimand General Hospital, Hagersville.

Deborah Taylor-Munro spent the weekend at the Presbyterian Manse.

Mrs. Cora McKenzie visited her cousin Mrs. Annie Sherry in Oakville on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lysch and son Stephen spent the Armistice weekend with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lysch. Also spending Saturday at their home were Mrs. Lysch's father W. F. Davis of Mt. Elgin and her sister Mrs. Norman Smith of Detroit.

From Emanuel College, Kitchener a male quartet rendered music at both morning and evening services at the Brethren in Christ Church, Cheapside on Sunday. Assistant pastor Charles Byers, a ministerial student from the College, gave the message.

Visitors from Stevensville Rev. William Charlton and his wife Pearl Winger Charlton whose parents resided in the area in the early 1900's were Sunday visitors at B.I.C. Church, Cheapside.

On Sunday afternoon by appointment, five guests visited the Museum - Rev. and Mrs. William Charlton, Jessie Weaver, wife and daughter Lisa. Mrs.

Charles and Lottie Trousdale had a visit from their niece in Hamilton during last week.

Mrs. Ralph Lofthouse, Cheapside is a patient in West Haldimand Hospital, Hagersville.

David and Lottie Trousdale had a visit from their niece in Hamilton during last week.

Mrs. Ralph Lofthouse, Cheapside is a patient in West Haldimand Hospital, Hagersville.

Mrs. Fred Roulston is a patient in West Haldimand General Hospital, Hagersville.

Deborah Taylor-Munro spent the weekend at the Presbyterian Manse.

Mrs. Cora McKenzie visited her cousin Mrs. Annie Sherry in Oakville on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lysch and son Stephen spent the Armistice weekend with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lysch. Also spending Saturday at their home were Mrs. Lysch's father W. F. Davis of Mt. Elgin and her sister Mrs. Norman Smith of Detroit.

From Emanuel College, Kitchener a male quartet rendered music at both morning and evening services at the Brethren in Christ Church, Cheapside on Sunday. Assistant pastor Charles Byers, a ministerial student from the College, gave the message.

Visitors from Stevensville Rev. William Charlton and his wife Pearl Winger Charlton whose parents resided in the area in the early 1900's were Sunday visitors at B.I.C. Church, Cheapside.

On Sunday afternoon by appointment, five guests visited the Museum - Rev. and Mrs. William Charlton, Jessie Weaver, wife and daughter Lisa. Mrs.

Charles and Lottie Trousdale had a visit from their niece in Hamilton during last week.

Mrs. Ralph Lofthouse, Cheapside is a patient in West Haldimand Hospital, Hagersville.

David and Lottie Trousdale had a visit from their niece in Hamilton during last week.

Mrs. Ralph Lofthouse, Cheapside is a patient in West Haldimand Hospital, Hagersville.

Mrs. Fred Roulston is a patient in West Haldimand General Hospital, Hagersville.

Deborah Taylor-Munro spent the weekend at the Presbyterian Manse.

Mrs. Cora McKenzie visited her cousin Mrs. Annie Sherry in Oakville on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lysch and son Stephen spent the Armistice weekend with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lysch. Also spending Saturday at their home were Mrs. Lysch's father W. F. Davis of Mt. Elgin and her sister Mrs. Norman Smith of Detroit.

From Emanuel College, Kitchener a male quartet rendered music at both morning and evening services at the Brethren in Christ Church, Cheapside on Sunday. Assistant pastor Charles Byers, a ministerial student from the College, gave the message.

Visitors from Stevensville Rev. William Charlton and his wife Pearl Winger Charlton whose parents resided in the area in the early 1900's were Sunday visitors at B.I.C. Church, Cheapside.

On Sunday afternoon by appointment, five guests visited the Museum - Rev. and Mrs. William Charlton, Jessie Weaver, wife and daughter Lisa. Mrs.

Charles and Lottie Trousdale had a visit from their niece in Hamilton during last week.

Mrs. Ralph Lofthouse, Cheapside is a patient in West Haldimand Hospital, Hagersville.

David and Lottie Trousdale had a visit from their niece in Hamilton during last week.

Mrs. Ralph Lofthouse, Cheapside is a patient in West Haldimand Hospital, Hagersville.

Mrs. Fred Roulston is a patient in West Haldimand General Hospital, Hagersville.

Deborah Taylor-Munro spent the weekend at the Presbyterian Manse.

Mrs. Cora McKenzie visited her cousin Mrs. Annie Sherry in Oakville on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lysch and son Stephen spent the Armistice weekend with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lysch. Also spending Saturday at their home were Mrs. Lysch's father W. F. Davis of Mt. Elgin and her sister Mrs. Norman Smith of Detroit.

From Emanuel College, Kitchener a male quartet rendered music at both morning and evening services at the Brethren in Christ Church, Cheapside on Sunday. Assistant pastor Charles Byers, a ministerial student from the College, gave the message.

Visitors from Stevensville Rev. William Charlton and his wife Pearl Winger Charlton whose parents resided in the area in the early 1900's were Sunday visitors at B.I.C. Church, Cheapside.

On Sunday afternoon by appointment, five guests visited the Museum - Rev. and Mrs. William Charlton, Jessie Weaver, wife and daughter Lisa. Mrs.

Charles and Lottie Trousdale had a visit from their niece in Hamilton during last week.

Mrs. Ralph Lofthouse, Cheapside is a patient in West Haldimand Hospital, Hagersville.

David and Lottie Trousdale had a visit from their niece in Hamilton during last week.

Knox Ladies Aid, WMS Meet

Mrs. Lilian Lowes entertained the November meeting of the Knox Ladies' Aid and W.M.S. on the afternoon of Tuesday of last week, at her home on Talbot St.

Mrs. Wallace Mitchell chaired the Ladies' Aid meeting opening by Psalm reading and prayer. The hymn Stand up for Jesus was sung. Minutes and roll call were read by the secretary treasurer Helen Miller who also gave the financial report and read letters of thanks for gifts.

The manse committee reported repairs completed on the plumbing and kitchen at the manse. Flowers in the church received favorable comment to Mrs. Lowes and the couples' club. The couples' club and other church ladies were complimented on the success of the recent anniversary supper.

Mrs. R. A. Miller with Mrs. Herman Fess presided for the W. M. S. Letters of invitation to Presbyterian meetings in Hamilton were not received in time for Jarvis to attend. A discussion on Ways and Means in W.M.S. work took place.

Mrs. Fess convened the program, Mrs. Lily Miller reading chapter one of St. John's Gospel. Frances Law read a timely story of the flower box. Mrs. Cora McKenzie led in prayer. Mrs. Fess read an article from the Hamilton Spectator from Wilkin-son's Road to Jeru-salem. Hymns I am thine O Lord and Draw me Nearer were sung also Lead on oh Lord. The meeting closed with the Benediction after which Mrs. Charles Powell acted as auctioneer for a suc-cessful bake sale. The December meeting will be at the manse. Mrs. Powell extended cour-tesy.

encouraging but some dues are still out-standing.

Mrs. Leo Montague, President, gave details of the Crystal Ball which will be held Dec. 2 in the Summer Gardens. Tickets are $7 and the Silvertones will supply the music. She thanked everyone who had as-sisted at the Caledonia Fair Booth. Proceeds were most gratifying.

The quilt was won by Vicky Peart, the toaster by Bill Mott and the money tree by T. M. Murphy.

Mrs. Hubert Snowden gave a very interesting report on the Convention which was held in Toronto. The ladies are reminded to have their annual chest x-rays if working in the coffee shop.

The hospital library is in need of old comic books for the children. The ladies of St. Ann's Church, Walpole, will be hostess's for the Jan-uary meeting.

The new billing would help cut down on the borrowing of the muni-cipality has to do at the first of the year in order to get itself through until the first billing.

Also a consideration in the change is that the county board of education gets its monies on a four times a year basis.

The four-times a year tax billing is becoming more generally ac-cepted in the county, he said, and Hagersville is not the first to go to this type of arrange-ment.

The charge was laid by the chief after a complaint by Coun. Robert Gedye that he had to wait 25 minutes while the train blocked the highway.

Explorers Meet

Once again nearly 20 girls, aged 8 to 12 at-tended the weekly Wed-nesday afternoon meet-ing of the Explorers in the United Church Christian Education Wing on Nov. 8 at 4 p.m.

Many interesting games and relay races were enjoyed by the girls, with the Worship Service being taken by Karen Esselment read-ing Scripture.

Leader Mrs. Julie Rule read a most inter-esting story, which dwelt on family life, and how discontented all family members get by taking several days to do just as they please - even mother and father.

Karen Rule closed with prayer, after which more games were enjoyed before the Pre-sident, Cindy Atkinson led in the closing ex-ercises, with all re-peating the prayer in unison.

Continued From Page 1

be obtained from the village.

All vehicles would be prohibited from the public parks, except for maintenance vehicles.

Reeve John Kincaid thanked the chief for the bylaws, which the council has been urging for some time. "We can make all the rules we want," he said, "but without proper bylaws with teeth in them, its no good."

Council decided to send the proposed bylaws to the solicitor for his examination, with the hope that they would be ready for council by its next meeting.

In other police mat-ters, the chief informed council that Nov. 29 had been set for a court hearing in a charge against the Penn Central railway of obstructing a public highway for more than five minutes.

It was noted that signs are posted at the out-skirts of the village warning motorists that construction is in progress and to proceed at their own risk.

Coun. Basili noted that five accidents had occurred with vehicles hitting the barriers.

Continued From Page 1

instead of twice a year billing.

As Clerk Arthur Roth explained it, tax notices would be sent out in April, which would be a pre-levy before taxes are set, another one in June, one in early fall and one likely in De-cember.

The four-times a year tax billing is becoming more generally ac-cepted in the county, he said, and Hagersville is not the first to go to this type of arrange-ment.

The charge was laid by the chief after a complaint by Coun. Robert Gedye that he had to wait 25 minutes while the train blocked the highway.

Explorers Meet

Once again nearly 20 girls, aged 8 to 12 at-tended the weekly Wed-nesday afternoon meet-ing of the Explorers in the United Church Christian Education Wing on Nov. 8 at 4 p.m.

Many interesting games and relay races were enjoyed by the girls, with the Worship Service being taken by Karen Esselment read-ing Scripture.

Leader Mrs. Julie Rule read a most inter-esting story, which dwelt on family life, and how discontented all family members get by taking several days to do just as they please - even mother and father.

Karen Rule closed with prayer, after which more games were enjoyed before the Pre-sident, Cindy Atkinson led in the closing ex-ercises, with all re-peating the prayer in unison.

Continued From Page 1

be obtained from the village.

All vehicles would be prohibited from the public parks, except for maintenance vehicles.

Reeve John Kincaid thanked the chief for the bylaws, which the council has been urging for some time. "We can make all the rules we want," he said, "but without proper bylaws with teeth in them, its no good."

Council decided to send the proposed bylaws to the solicitor for his examination, with the hope that they would be ready for council by its next meeting.

In other police mat-ters, the chief informed council that Nov. 29 had been set for a court hearing in a charge against the Penn Central railway of obstructing a public highway for more than five minutes.

It was noted that signs are posted at the out-skirts of the village warning motorists that construction is in progress and to proceed at their own risk.

Coun. Basili noted that five accidents had occurred with vehicles hitting the barriers.

Continued From Page 1

instead of twice a year billing.

As Clerk Arthur Roth explained it, tax notices would be sent out in April, which would be a pre-levy before taxes are set, another one in June, one in early fall and one likely in De-cember.

The four-times a year tax billing is becoming more generally ac-cepted in the county, he said, and Hagersville is not the first to go to this type of arrange-ment.

The charge was laid by the chief after a complaint by Coun. Robert Gedye that he had to wait 25 minutes while the train blocked the highway.

Explorers Meet

Once again nearly 20 girls, aged 8 to 12 at-tended the weekly Wed-nesday afternoon meet-ing of the Explorers in the United Church Christian Education Wing on Nov. 8 at 4 p.m.

Many interesting games and relay races were enjoyed by the girls, with the Worship Service being taken by Karen Esselment read-ing Scripture.

Leader Mrs. Julie Rule read a most inter-esting story, which dwelt on family life, and how discontented all family members get by taking several days to do just as they please - even mother and father.

Karen Rule closed with prayer, after which more games were enjoyed before the Pre-sident, Cindy Atkinson led in the closing ex-ercises, with all re-peating the prayer in unison.

Continued From Page 1

be obtained from the village.

All vehicles would be prohibited from the public parks, except for maintenance vehicles.

Reeve John Kincaid thanked the chief for the bylaws, which the council has been urging for some time. "We can make all the rules we want," he said, "but without proper bylaws with teeth in them, its no good."

Council decided to send the proposed bylaws to the solicitor for his examination, with the hope that they would be ready for council by its next meeting.

In other police mat-ters, the chief informed council that Nov. 29 had been set for a court hearing in a charge against the Penn Central railway of obstructing a public highway for more than five minutes.

It was noted that signs are posted at the out-skirts of the village warning motorists that construction is in progress and to proceed at their own risk.

Coun. Basili noted that five accidents had occurred with vehicles hitting the barriers.

Continued From Page 1

instead of twice a year billing.

As Clerk Arthur Roth explained it, tax notices would be sent out in April, which would be a pre-levy before taxes are set, another one in June, one in early fall and one likely in De-cember.

The four-times a year tax billing is becoming more generally ac-cepted in the county, he said, and Hagersville is not the first to go to this type of arrange-ment.

The charge was laid by the chief after a complaint by Coun. Robert Gedye that he had to wait 25 minutes while the train blocked the highway.

Explorers Meet

Once again nearly 20 girls, aged 8 to 12 at-tended the weekly Wed-nesday afternoon meet-ing of the Explorers in the United Church Christian Education Wing on Nov. 8 at 4 p.m.

Many interesting games and relay races were enjoyed by the girls, with the Worship Service being taken by Karen Esselment read-ing Scripture.

Leader Mrs. Julie Rule read a most inter-esting story, which dwelt on family life, and how discontented all family members get by taking several days to do just as they please - even mother and father.

Karen Rule closed with prayer, after which more games were enjoyed before the Pre-sident, Cindy Atkinson led in the closing ex-ercises, with all re-peating the prayer in unison.

Continued From Page 1

be obtained from the village.

All vehicles would be prohibited from the public parks, except for maintenance vehicles.

Reeve John Kincaid thanked the chief for the bylaws, which the council has been urging for some time. "We can make all the rules we want," he said, "but without proper bylaws with teeth in them, its no good."

Council decided to send the proposed bylaws to the solicitor for his examination, with the hope that they would be ready for council by its next meeting.

In other police mat-ters, the chief informed council that Nov. 29 had been set for a court hearing in a charge against the Penn Central railway of obstructing a public highway for more than five minutes.

It was noted that signs are posted at the out-skirts of the village warning motorists that construction is in progress and to proceed at their own risk.

Coun. Basili noted that five accidents had occurred with vehicles hitting the barriers.

Continued From Page 1

instead of twice a year billing.

As Clerk Arthur Roth explained it, tax notices would be sent out in April, which would be a pre-levy before taxes are set, another one in June, one in early fall and one likely in De-cember.

The four-times a year tax billing is becoming more generally ac-cepted in the county, he said, and Hagersville is not the first to go to this type of arrange-ment.

The charge was laid by the chief after a complaint by Coun. Robert Gedye that he had to wait 25 minutes while the train blocked the highway.

Explorers Meet

Once again nearly 20 girls, aged 8 to 12 at-tended the weekly Wed-nesday afternoon meet-ing of the Explorers in the United Church Christian Education Wing on Nov. 8 at 4 p.m.

Many interesting games and relay races were enjoyed by the girls, with the Worship Service being taken by Karen Esselment read-ing Scripture.

Leader Mrs. Julie Rule read a most inter-esting story, which dwelt on family life, and how discontented all family members get by taking several days to do just as they please - even mother and father.

Karen Rule closed with prayer, after which more games were enjoyed before the Pre-sident, Cindy Atkinson led in the closing ex-ercises, with all re-peating the prayer in unison.

Continued From Page 1

be obtained from the village.

All vehicles would be prohibited from the public parks, except for maintenance vehicles.

Reeve John Kincaid thanked the chief for the bylaws, which the council has been urging for some time. "We can make all the rules we want," he said, "but without proper bylaws with teeth in them, its no good."

Council decided to send the proposed bylaws to the solicitor for his examination, with the hope that they would be ready for council by its next meeting.

In other police mat-ters, the chief informed council that Nov. 29 had been set for a court hearing in a charge against the Penn Central railway of obstructing a public highway for more than five minutes.

It was noted that signs are posted at the out-skirts of the village warning motorists that construction is in progress and to proceed at their own risk.

Coun. Basili noted that five accidents had occurred with vehicles hitting the barriers.

Continued From Page 1

instead of twice a year billing.

As Clerk Arthur Roth explained it, tax notices would be sent out in April, which would be a pre-levy before taxes are set, another one in June, one in early fall and one likely in De-cember.

The four-times a year tax billing is becoming more generally ac-cepted in the county, he said, and Hagersville is not the first to go to this type of arrange-ment.

The charge was laid by the chief after a complaint by Coun. Robert Gedye that he had to wait 25 minutes while the train blocked the highway.

Explorers Meet

Once again nearly 20 girls, aged 8 to 12 at-tended the weekly Wed-nesday afternoon meet-ing of the Explorers in the United Church Christian Education Wing on Nov. 8 at 4 p.m.

Many interesting games and relay races were enjoyed by the girls, with the Worship Service being taken by Karen Esselment read-ing Scripture.

Leader Mrs. Julie Rule read a most inter-esting story, which dwelt on family life, and how discontented all family members get by taking several days to do just as they please - even mother and father.

Karen Rule closed with prayer, after which more games were enjoyed before the Pre-sident, Cindy Atkinson led in the closing ex-ercises, with all re-peating the prayer in unison.

Continued From Page 1

be obtained from the village.

All vehicles would be prohibited from the public parks, except for maintenance vehicles.

Reeve John Kincaid thanked the chief for the bylaws, which the council has been urging for some time. "We can make all the rules we want," he said, "but without proper bylaws with teeth in them, its no good."

Council decided to send the proposed bylaws to the solicitor for his examination, with the hope that they would be ready for council by its next meeting.

In other police mat-ters, the chief informed council that Nov. 29 had been set for a court hearing in a charge against the Penn Central railway of obstructing a public highway for more than five minutes.

It was noted that signs are posted at the out-skirts of the village warning motorists that construction is in progress and to proceed at their own risk.

Coun. Basili noted that five accidents had occurred with vehicles hitting the barriers.

Continued From Page 1

instead of twice a year billing.

As Clerk Arthur Roth explained it, tax notices would be sent out in April, which would be a pre-levy before taxes are set, another one in June, one in early fall and one likely in De-cember.

The four-times a year tax billing is becoming more generally ac-cepted in the county, he said, and Hagersville is not the first to go to this type of arrange-ment.

The charge was laid by the chief after a complaint by Coun. Robert Gedye that he had to wait 25 minutes while the train blocked the highway.

Explorers Meet

Once again nearly 20 girls, aged 8 to 12 at-tended the weekly Wed-nesday afternoon meet-ing of the Explorers in the United Church Christian Education Wing on Nov. 8 at 4 p.m.

Many interesting games and relay races were enjoyed by the girls, with the Worship Service being taken by Karen Esselment read-ing Scripture.

Leader Mrs. Julie Rule read a most inter-esting story, which dwelt on family life, and how discontented all family members get by taking several days to do just as they please - even mother and father.

Karen Rule closed with prayer, after which more games were enjoyed before the Pre-sident, Cindy Atkinson led in the closing ex-ercises, with all re-peating the prayer in unison.

Continued From Page 1

be obtained from the village.

All vehicles would be prohibited from the public parks, except for maintenance vehicles.

Reeve John Kincaid thanked the chief for the bylaws, which the council has been urging for some time. "We can make all the rules we want," he said, "but without proper bylaws with teeth in them, its no good."

Council decided to send the proposed bylaws to the solicitor for his examination, with the hope that they would be ready for council by its next meeting.

In other police mat-ters, the chief informed council that Nov. 29 had been set for a court hearing in a charge against the Penn Central railway of obstructing a public highway for more than five minutes.

It was noted that signs are posted at the out-skirts of the village warning motorists that construction is in progress and to proceed at their own risk.

Coun. Basili noted that five accidents had occurred with vehicles hitting the barriers.

Continued From Page 1

instead of twice a year billing.