Editorial Comment:

Electioneering Begins

The guessing will begin afresh next week as to who will take Norfolk-Haldimand riding in the Oct. 30 election when the Progressive Conservative Party holds its nomination night in Simcoe.

The PCs have been a little slow to get in on the early electioneering that has been drifting about the two counties for the past several weeks. But, of course, they have the advantage in being the party that is in power in the riding.

Their party member, William Knowles, has indicated he will stand for renomination and the party will be using its nomination meeting as a springboard for the campaign.

The Liberal's candidate Dr. David Marshall, of Cayuga, is running in full gear now since the election was called.

The Liberals appear to have a rejuvenated election campaign committee that so far is working hard at promoting their candidate and getting him around the two counties.

In a recent statement Dr. Marshall said he would make the expansion of tobacco markets a personal crusade, which should quickly bring him face to face with Mr. Knowles, a tobacco farmer in a primarily tobacco region.

The New Democratic Party candidate Ede Pos is so far running a fairly quiet campaign, but showing up consistently at recent public meetings.

A confrontation between the three candidates is expected to take place at a public meeting next Friday in Jarvis.

It would be the first real chance the electorate, along with the new faces of the 18 year olds, to meet the three men who will be jousting for the riding.

Mr. Nicklin said the 18 property owners in the subdivision made their assessments and 1972 taxes available to him in order to compile exact figures.

He said the total assessed value of the subdivision is $19,640 and the total taxes are $1,601.84. The general levy to the township totals $647.08 and the education levy paid through Walpole to the county is $954.76.

The county board of education collects all education taxes and apportions it back throughout the county.

Mr. Nicklin noted the lakefront cottagers are charged taxes on their assessed value of property at the same mill rate of 81.562 mills as are other property owners in the township.

The total land area involved in the subdivision is 3.5 acres. Mr. Nicklin said the farm immediately to the north of the subdivision, the Jack Wood farm, also made available its taxes and assessment to the WTCAA for comparison purposes.

The farm is assessed at $3,530 with total taxes of $287.91. Of this $116.31 is for the general levy and $171.60 is for education. The land area is exactly 59.5 acres.

Mr. Nicklin noted all properties involved are assessed as public school supporters.

He said the percentage of lakefront taxes being forwarded to the county for education is approximately 59.06 per cent of the total taxes.

Dear Sir:

On Friday, August 25, the Council of Walpole Township held a meeting to which they invited the property owners of Concession 1 Lots 1 to 24 inclusive. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss the reason for changing the wording of the zoning by-law, namely from "Summer Cottage" to "Resort Cottage."

Many of these "Cottages" were built, or have been converted to, winterized homes and as such are occupied by retired couples with no children living at home. As our taxes here increased we have not complained on the grounds of education costs, etc.

However, one of the district farmers, Phil Hare, put the blame on children from the lakefront for the increased costs to the farmers whom, he says, pay three times as much taxes. Also he claims their burden will be greater if we sell our property to people with children. How is that for discrimination?

Would Mr. Hare be likely to sell his property to people with children or would he find it more expedient to encourage some further industrial development? - considering the location of his property.

About the distribution of taxes - it is a fact that business property taxes are much greater than normal residential taxes. Therefore a farmer owning large parcels of land and particularly those operating other businesses such as trucking and fishing would expect to pay considerably more than a "cottage" owner. However, such is not the case in this township. I understand that the Lakefront accounts for approximately 45 per cent of real assessed value of the township which, I think, is paying our fair share, particularly since we ask, or receive practically no services from the Township of Walpole.

According to council we contribute greatly to pollution and are accused of destroying the beauty of the Lakefront. Most of us are very particular about our property and conscientious about the drainage of our septic tanks.

Does industry truly beautify any area? Yet, Council has enabled industry to move into the surrounding areas near the lake, which we hope to keep intact. Two large companies are planning construction of plants and another is in operation. - And practically on our doorstep!

What does Council hope to gain by shifting the burden of guilt on those of us who ask only that we retain the right to live in our own homes the year round? I'm sure the majority of you have found us to be good neighbours as we have found you.

Sincerely yours,
William Ross.
