

Landscape For Nanticoke

 Fort Jamieson and some tree stands and the area's wildlife.

Mr. Kehm said that they had moved the industrial planning area because they wanted to preserve certain tree stands. We want "detailed landscaping rather than wide open spaces," he said.

Donald Hurst, president of the Norfolk Field Naturalist club expressed hope at the meeting that the company "is not telling only what we want to hear." "Action speaks louder than words," Mr. Fisher replied. "Time will have to tell how sincere we are . . . We don't see any need for desecration of landscape."

Mr. Fisher added that these plans are not entirely unselfish. We have to face the future.

There will be a lot of people living in this area who are Stelco and we are concerned for their quality of life.

The question of air and water conservation was touched on briefly, but no definite plans were given.

Mr. Fisher said Stelco has studied methods where water is continuously recirculated within the plant and never returns to the natural water system. Air is less definable, he said, and there is bound to be some detrimental effect. However, he said there are systems to be utilized which can prevent what we normally see emanating from stacks.

He added that Stelco will conform to all government regulations concerning environment, but it is always a matter of economics.

Stelco's Lake Erie property comprises approximately 6,600 acres. Present plans call for the establishment of the steelmaking complex in the southern part of the property adjoining the lake, with the northern half being converted into an industrial park that will permit secondary and service industries to locate in an orderly fashion on property - serviced lots in a way that will dovetail with the development of surrounding communities. While no firm date has, as yet, been set for the start of construction of the steel-making facilities, it is anticipated that preliminary work will commence sometime during the next twelve to eighteen months.

He added that Stelco will conform to all government regulations concerning environment, but it is always

Spring Fashions

 soft feeling of ease and simplicity of natural fabrics and natural get-togethers.

The smock outfit craze of last summer, fall and winter is again a definite in for Spring '73. Smock dresses, tops and jackets were shown for every occasion and every girl. . . including little girl school and Sunday dresses.

The layer look is also making its spring encore, along with the super shirt - dresses, jackets and tops.

However, jacketed dresses, skirts and pant outfits set the predominant trend for Thursday's review. Battle jackets were worn with dresses. And, sweater coats, blazers and fitted jackets complimented pants, skirts and dresses.

Anything goes in colour. . . from the crayon brightness of spring flowers to soft powdery blues and baby pinks. For added splash and variety in your Spring '73 wardrobe, wear dotted, checked and red, white and navy blue combinations.

For the fashion-conscious woman, skirt lengths are also down for the warm weather season brushing the kneecap.

Beach and peignoir sets, many of them made in stretch 'n sew classes, were featured at the show as well as patterns for women who love to sew.

Men's fashion has become big business with the growing interest in style, variety and colour. Something new for the man of the house this spring is shaped suits and unconstructed suits.

For a complete spring fashion picture, shop and see.

Don't Panic Sell

 drawn in Finance Minister John Turner's budget. U.S. beef markets have fallen further than the Canadian market, and larger than normal supplies of U.S. live cattle are coming into Canada.

"A normal market could readily absorb all the livestock available. The market has tumbled because of artificial pressures. Supplies are not greater than visible demand," stresses Hill. Heavy marketings, particularly of under-finished animals, would lower prices even present run down state and when they were planning to clean it up. The spokesman said at one time Stelco had removed some of the buildings. However, the municipalities complained they were losing their assessment.

So, "we're damned if we do and damned if we don't," he said.

Alex Fisher, Stelco vice-president of facilities planning, engineering and research added that the vandalism "outlet" was their first step towards recreation.

Further," he adds. Hill also warns that panic sellers will deplete their herds and have no stock to sell when the market goes back up" - as it likely will in a week or two."

 small tractor pulls will be held across the province with the Canadian Tractor Pullers Association acting as the co-ordinating body to provide assistance. Mr. Anderson said the sport will probably run much more smoothly once they adopt and run meets under the same rules.

Tractor pulling is becoming an increasingly popular spectator sport. And, the association has been approached to put on a demonstration at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, Mr. Anderson added.

4H Club Organized

The organization of the Hagersville and Jarvis Calf Clubs was held on March 21, at the Municipal Building in Jarvis.

The meeting was opened with the representative, Tom Webber, explaining the events for '73. An enrollment form was filled out by each member following the discussion.

The nominated officers are as follows for Jarvis: President - Bill Mulkins; Vice - President - Doug Banfield; Secretary - Martha Banfield; Press Reporter - Joyce Stark; Director - Linda Stallwood.

Our leaders for the Jarvis Calf Club are Keith Stallwood and Ken Mulkins.

On The Green

Harrop of Hagersville. There were 29 members present.

We played Hoss and the winners were: Ladies high - Mabel Wilson, ladies low - Mrs. Charles Parson. Mens high - Mr. Alf Smith, mens low - Mr. Clint Strome.

After cards, lunch was served and consisted of tea, coffee, pickles and sandwiches.

Our next get-together will be on April 28th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Strome of Cayuga.

 President George Reu opened the meeting with all repeating the "Lords Prayer."

Minutes were read and approved. Mrs. Stallwood gave a report of the Zone 3 executive that we attended. There was no other business so we played Hoss with eight tables.

Winners were - Ladies High, Mrs. Alex Duncan; Ladies Low, Mrs. Anderson; Mens High, Mr. Alex Duncan, Mens Low, Mr. D. Roberts.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Stallwood, Mrs. Lowes and Mrs. Mitchell.

Lightning Strikes

Lightning was blamed for the weekend death of four purebred Holstein cows on the Frank Peart farm.

Mrs. Peart of R. R. 3, Hagersville told the Record Monday that the accident occurred during the storm early Sunday morning. Her husband discovered the deaths when he went to the barn to do chores at 5 a.m. 40 cows were tied up.

However, only three in one row and one cow in a second row were killed. She said they think the lightning flowed along the milk pulsator which is connected to the stanchions, and struck in a hit and miss fashion.

The loss is partially covered by insurance and has certainly been noticed in the milk tank, she said.

Painting Programs At Schools

At last Tuesday's Board of Education meeting, committee reports showed the following:

- Painting projects have been completed at the Jarvis, Dunnville Central and Camboro schools. Two crews are presently working at the Caledonia High School. These programs are being financed by a $16,000 federal winter works grant and a $9,000 provincial winter works grant.

- A survey of past and future spending, covering a period from 1940-1990, was presented at a Policy Committee meeting.

The Committee reported that this survey indicated educational costs per pupil was doubling every ten years, and if this trend continues, cost per pupil in 1990 would be - elementary $2,800, - secondary $5,000.

- The Village of Jarvis contacted the Board informing them that they are planning to excavate a new street allowance near the school. And, they wondered if the Board was interested in having this excavated fill deposited on the Jarvis Public School property.

The Property Committee recommended that the Board make arrangements for this to be done.

- The Transportation Committee discussed a request, recently made by Thomas Palmer of Caledonia, asking that consideration be given to a late bus route from Cayuga Secondary School to Caledonia.

The object of this route would be to accommodate pupils who wish to remain later at Cayuga Secondary School for extra curricular activities.

The committee report said that if this type of service is provided at Cayuga Secondary School, the same type of service would have to be provided at Dunnville, Hagersville and Caledonia secondary schools as well. The matter will be discussed with secondary school principals.

- A request from the Village of Cayuga asking that their secondary students be transported to Cayuga High School was turned down.

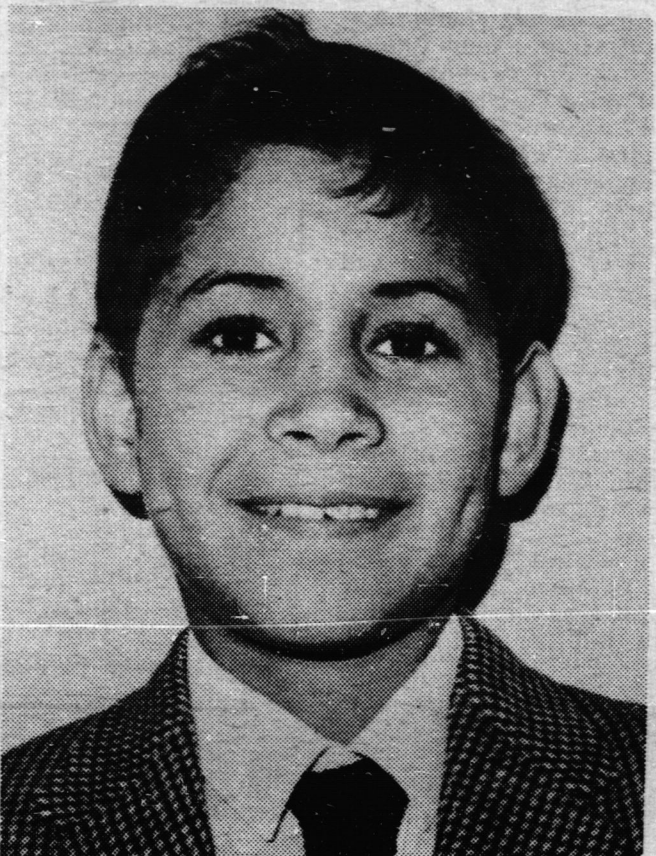

The Transportation Committee report said secondary students in the Village still have the opportunity of walking to the J. L. Mitchener School in the morning for transportation from that point to Cayuga Secondary School.

- The Transportation Committee recommended that tenders be called on a new Econo-line 12 passenger bus for the Haldimand School.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

NEEDS UNDERSTANDING PARENTS

Tony, 11, is handsome, slim and agile with beautiful dark eyes fringed by long thick lashes, brown curly hair and medium complexion. His ancestors were black, Indian and Irish.

Tony is in good health but developing well behind the average for his age. He works hard in school where he is in special education. Competitive in nature, he dreads failure, so he prefers to do tasks when he knows he can succeed. He needs reassurance and functions better when he receives it.

Tony enjoys working with adults, sharing chores like gardening. He loves sports and is a camping enthusiast. He is especially fond of swimming.

When Tony can be the centre of attention he is a cheerful lad with a good sense of humor - but he is sensitive and inclined to feel rejected if left in the background.

This lad needs understanding parents who can combine warmth with a firm, consistent environment and who can make him believe that to them he is very special.

To inquire about adopting Tony, please write to Today's Child, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, please contact your local Children's Aid Society.

Top Drivers To Race At Cayuga

Several of Canada's top racing drivers have completed plans for the "Super Late" model stock car racing season. The first race in the series starts at Cayuga International Speedway, Friday May 4, at 8:30 p.m.

The two main weekly events are held at Cayuga International Speedway and at Delaware International Speedway, located on the edge of London, Ontario. Delaware will host the top drivers and cars on Saturday nights while Cayuga will run on the Friday.

As previously announced, the combined race purse of Cayuga and Delaware will be more than $250,000 in cash for the 21 week racing programs. This makes it one of the richest racing series in North America, possibly the richest for short tracks. Cayuga, a 5-8 mile paved oval and Delaware, a 1/2 mile paved oval are the two biggest tracks in Canada.

HAROLD BROWN WITH TWO CARS.

Harold Brown of Brantford, Ontario, who placed second in the Cayuga Pepsi-Cola track championship, and fourth in the rich Export "A" Series of Championships last year, has announced that he will have two cars ready for this year's series at Cayuga and Delaware.

Brown, age 37, will fill the same 1972 Chevelle that he drove last year and an all new 1973 Camaro for this year.

"We will track test both cars and I'll drive the fastest at Cayuga," said Harold from his Brantford office. "We may have a second driver for the other car to run the major races, but it is pretty much up in the air at this time" he added.

Brown is married, the father of two children, Douglas, eight years and Susan-Lee, almost two years. He is owner of Brown Motors, a Super-test Service Centre in Brantford, Ontario.

EARL ROSS, MANY PLANS.

Earl Ross of Ailsa Craig, Ontario, near London, will be back at Cayuga and Delaware with a 1972 Chevelle. Ross has been active with the Carlings "Red Cap" car in NASCAR events and has recently joined the first to head up their racing programs.

HOLDS TRACK RECORD

Norm Lelliott of Toronto, who holds the Super Late Model track record of 104 m.p.h. in a 1972 Chevelle, has sold his car to Toronto's Ray Gullison. Lelliott will not say much about his plans for this year except that he will again be driving an all new car. "Better than last years" said Norm.

Lelliott's car was sponsored by Performance Engineering of Thornhill, Ontario, and employed several new ideas. Performance Engineering is the same group that prepared cars for John Cordts in the International Can-Am series for the past several years. GALA DANCE

Pre-season plans at the track include a gala dance and party for the race fans. This will be held Saturday April 14 at the Cayuga Secondary School. At this time the tracks race queen contest will be held. The finalist will be selected on opening night, Friday May 4, at Cayuga Speedway.

22 Years Of Service

On March 30th before the men dispersed at the end of the days work, fellow workers of Clayton Gee marked the occasion of termination of employment for him with the Township of Walpole after over 22 years of continuous service on the road staff.

William Booth, on behalf of the road staff, presented Clayton with a walnut plaque suitably engraved as a memento of the occasion and expressed best wishes for him during his years of retirement.

Clayton expressed appreciation and thanks to the road employees for this gesture.

Library

Hagersville Municipal Council received the Hagersville Public Library Budget requesting $8,090 for 1973 as compared to $5,197 in 1972. The Ontario Government Operation Grant to the Library for 1973 was shown as $1,565 and $1,483 for 1972.
