County Teacher Retires

On Sunday afternoon, June 24th, a retirement tea was held in the J.L. Mitchener School, Cayuga, in honour of Edith Filsinger, who had just completed forty years of teaching. Over 500 citizens came to offer her their congratulations.

In 1931 Mrs. Filsinger's first salary was eight-hundred dollars a year. When the depression struck, it dropped to five-hundred and fifty dollars a year. Then in 1937 her salary jumped to seven-hundred dollars a year, making her the highest paid rural teacher in Southern Bruce County.

Mrs. Lang presented Mrs. Filsinger with an engraved gold watch and a brass school hand bell, replica of the most necessary piece of equipment in any rural school. The hand bell was most appropriately engraved, "Presented to Edith Filsinger by the teachers of Haldimand County in recognition of forty years of dedicated teaching, June 24, 1973."

Mr. Jacob Fransen, Haldimand County Director, spoke on behalf of the County School Board and thanked Mrs. Filsinger for her work in the teaching profession.

Mr. Robert Lang spoke of the many changes that had taken place in the Elementary Schools during the last forty years. The school pump, the water pail on the back shelf, the dipper, the box wood stove and the out-house had all disappeared from the rural scene.

In 1931 Mrs. Filsinger's first salary was eight-hundred dollars a year. When the depression struck, it dropped to five-hundred and fifty dollars a year. Then in 1937 her salary jumped to seven-hundred dollars a year, making her the highest paid rural teacher in Southern Bruce County.

Mrs. Lang presented Mrs. Filsinger with an engraved gold watch and a brass school hand bell, replica of the most necessary piece of equipment in any rural school. The hand bell was most appropriately engraved, "Presented to Edith Filsinger by the teachers of Haldimand County in recognition of forty years of dedicated teaching, June 24, 1973."

In her most gracious way, Mrs. Filsinger expressed her deep gratitude to the Board, administration, the teachers and the pupils in Haldimand. As she looked around the many guests crowded into the school gymnasium, she saw former students and told 'tales' about them when they were first-graders. Some of the truly interesting of these were about Willard Marshall who was present in all his glory, Douglas Weylie, Albert Stewart, Michael Gee and Darwin Kindree.

To the teachers, her message was to think long and hard before judging the disturbed child. Today's children have problems that are almost beyond the comprehension of the teacher. Children from homes where parents may be separated, one parent home or homes with alcoholic parents - all leave children with great needs to be met. Teachers should do research on the apparently spoiled child before condemning them. These children and teachers whom they can trust, communicate with and love.

To the parents, she said, "Listen, parents, listen." The parents who listen to the chatter of their two to twelve year-olds need not fear the silent adolescent years. The pattern will have been set for communication years before the teen age begins.

Parents who take time to listen to their children, bestow on them one of the greatest gifts of parenthood.

The tea table was presided over by Mrs. John Ross, Mrs. Robert Lang and six retired teachers from J. L. Mitchener, namely Mrs. Orpha Strome, Mrs. Eldora Jarrett, Mrs. Verla Powell, Mrs. Laura Piper, Mrs. Madeline Moodie and Mrs. Mary Lint.

Milk Increase

Between December 1, 1972 and June 1, 1973 prices of protein supplements needed in dairy feed tripled. Grain prices climbed between 25 and 50 percent. Wages for farm help, which is in short supply, rose seven percent.

"This increase was needed now to allow dairy farmers to keep milking," adds Matthie.

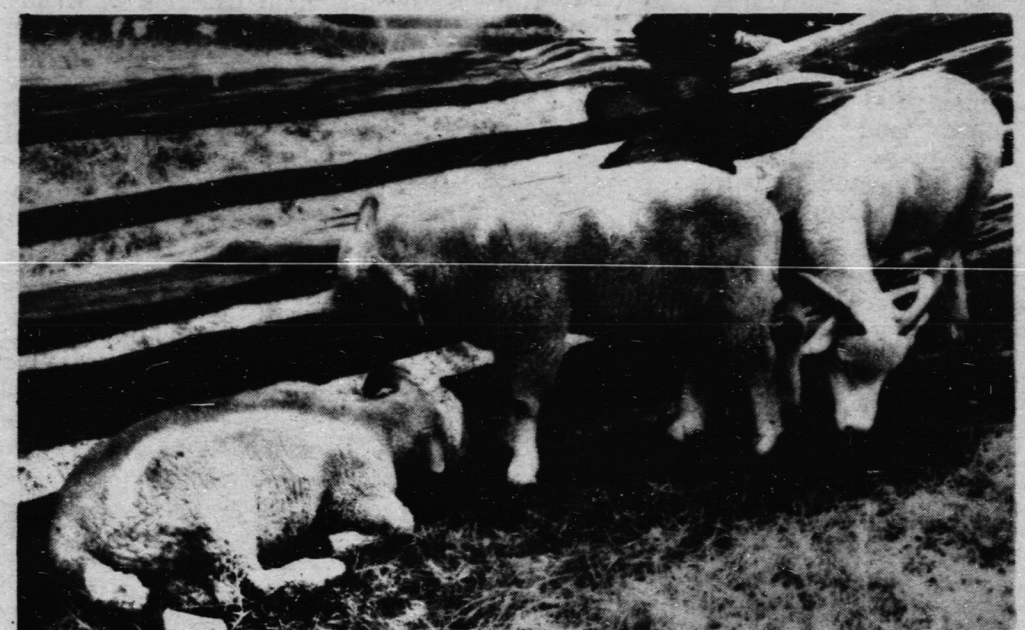

IF
If your efforts are criticized you must have done something worthwhile. If someone calls you a fool, go into silence and meditation. He might be right.

If the world laughs at you, laugh right back. It's as funny as you are. If you have tried to do something and failed, you are vastly better off than if you had tried nothing and succeeded. "The Hub"
