Kennel Club Teaches Dog Handling Course

with the boy's reaction, Audrey Lambert, a qualified judge and lecturer with the club said Monday. "And, all of the members working with the boys are contributing something which makes their hobby more worthwhile."

Mrs. Lambert, coordinator of last spring's program, finds plan at Wednesday's meeting because they want the village planning board to look it over and make a recommendation. One of the board's members was unable to attend this meeting.

Also, council wants to check with an engineer whether the village lagoon can handle the increased sewage and discuss the matter with the school board.

Council submitted the subdivision plan to the Ontario Municipal Board and received a list of questions concerning the proposal. Council concurred it the boys very responsive and open with club members.

The boy's enthusiasm was plain to be seen during the brief seminar and slide show she conducted on breed identification, classification and the purpose of dog shows.

She reminded the boys they must treat their dogs with praise. Each dog has a different personality from the next one, so you have to discover the way your dog will work with you the best, she said.

Ed Healey, assistant instructor, stressed the Hamilton Kennel Club is not working with the boys just because they are at a training school. The club wants to create an interest for dogs in every body. But after the boys leave here, they may own their own dog and this will give them a basic knowledge, he explained.

Orville Cotts, recreation director at the school, pointed out that the social significance of the program is to make the kids aware of the responsibilities that go with owning a dog. And a goal of the kennel club is to promote purebred dogs.

Mr. Cotts told the Record area scouts, brownies, and cubs have been invited to the show at 8 p.m. as well as staff members. Anybody from the public is also welcome to come.

Also on Thursday, Nov. 22 at 8 p.m., the McMaster Concert Band is coming to the school to entertain and anybody is welcome.

Pow Is Candidate

Mr. Pow explained he has set no definite plans on how he would run the city because he feels this is a "brand new ball game and guidelines will be set out for us."

To suggest policies would not be right. Besides, Mr. Pow added, he feels the mayor is somewhat akin to the warden of county council. "He carries out the wishes of council in a democratic fashion."
