

HAGERSVILLE*Highlights*Phil Hare Runs For Councillor

A 31-year-old Walpole township cash crop farmer is seeking an area councillor seat in Ward 1 (Jarvis - Walpole - Selkirk) of the City of Nanticoke.

Phil Hare, married with two sons, is running to make sure "our area gets its share out of what's coming in the future" in the way of services, etc. And, he wants to try and keep regional government as inexpensive as possible.

Mr. Hare is presently serving his first year on Walpole Township Council. He told the Record, Monday, he is pushing for area representatives to meet with people who have already been in regional government to learn their mistakes so the same mistakes won't be made here.

He will also be working for the retention of local library and hall boards in order to keep community interest alive.

Interested people are already doing a good job on a volunteer basis for these committees and Mr. Hare does not see why they should be abolished and looked after by a paid representative.

Whether we like it or not, we've got regional government, he said, and it's up to the elected representatives to make it operate the best possible way, without taxes going sky high.

Various community organizations Mr. Hare belongs to include:

- director of the Soil and Crop Improvement Association;

- a member of the South Walpole Home and School executive;

- a director of the Haldimand Federation of Agriculture;

- an active member of the Selkirk Baptist Church.

Forester Delegates

Friday evening and Saturday, November 16 and 17, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Mulkins of Hagersville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Greenwood and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Vallentyne of Caistor, Ontario, enjoyed a trip to Alliston, Ont. at Nottawasaga Inn where they were delegates to the Canadian Order of Foresters Fall Assembly.

Nearly $3000 was raised for Cancer Research from the Courts and were donated at the banquet Saturday night.

Hagersville Council Meets

The green light was given to organizers of a Day Nursery School to go ahead with plans to operate out of the Davison Centre at Hagersville Council Monday night.

Subject to the approval of the Health Department, building inspector and fire department, deputy - reeve Norm Crawford moved that council give their okay to the proposal.

Councillors Robert Gedy and Dominic Vanni made another motion asking the planning board to change the zoning of the Davison Centre from industrial to commercial.

EXPANSION

Council received a letter from Peter Hendriks of Hendriks' Nursing Home requesting 100 per cent occupation of their land for a possible addition to their nursing home.

POLICE CAR

The village received an invoice from Heaslip Motors of $147 for rental of a second car, while their leased police car was in for repairs.

Chief Warren Burger advised council they should not pay because the village was paying full rental for the police car. Or, the $147 should be deducted from their rental fee.

The car sat at the garage for the three weeks because they wanted to save money by having their own staff repair it, he explained. Otherwise, it could have been fixed sooner.

"I don't mind buying a car once, but I'm not buying it twice," he said of the second invoice.

Council agreed they should not pay the bill.

CHRISTMAS TREES

Hagersville Cubs and Scouts will be selling Christmas trees in the village this year.
