

"City Of Nanticoke" May Change Name To Town Or Twp.

The "city" in "City of Nanticoke" may be dropped in favor of a "town" or "township" label in order to obtain more road grants.

The area comprising Jarvis, Walpole twp., Woodhouse twp., Port Dover, Waterford and Townsend twp. is primarily rural and won't be able to pay for their roads if "city" subsidies are lower, Gordon Miller, reeve of Walpole said at County Council Friday morning.

Mr. Miller suggested that the difference in grant structure may be the reason why the Delhi area switched its title from city to township.

Haldimand clerk Karl Benner contacted Roger Warner of the Ministry of treasury, economics and intergovernmental affairs and reported back to council on the significance of naming regional municipalities "town," "township" or "city."

According to Mr. Warner, the labels

Entries Up For '73 Plowing Match

Haldimand County's 44th Annual Ploughing Match experienced a boost in the number of contestants for this year's competition.

Les Fess of R. R. 1, Jarvis, secretary of the Haldimand County Plowmen's Association, said 62 entered the various classes at the Grant Nagel farm this year, compared with 57 contestants in '72's competition.

The trend is moving up again after the post "International Ploughing Match" slump felt a couple of years ago, he said.

Prizes were awarded to recipients at the Plowmen's banquet held in Fisherville Thursday night.

Prize winners were: Class 1 - Carl Thompson, Earl Bacher, Arthur Winger, Jim Tomlinson and Ken Tomlinson.

Class 2 - Ralph Yule, Craig Huffman, Reg Opersko, John Hager, Shelby Williams, Lloyd

H.N.S.S. Executive Proposal

The Haldimand-Norfolk Joint Study Committee Executive has recommended policing in the new region be exclusively O.P.P. John McCombs, reeve of Moulton, told Haldimand County councillors Friday that the executive recommended provincial policing to the ministry of Inter-governmental Affairs on the basis of steering committee proposals. Of the six municipalities formed in the H-N region, two favored a regional police force, one recommended maintaining the present policing system (O.P.P. and town police) while three municipalities opted for exclusive O.P.P. coverage of the area.

Texaco will have far reaching complications in this area, Norman Bertrand, manager of distribution and development with the company, told an audience in Fisherville Thursday night.

Speaking at the Haldimand County Plowmen's Association banquet, Mr. Bertrand gave a brief summary of Texaco activities at their land site near Nanticoke.

Area Citizens

Differ On Region Name

Bill 190, an act to establish the regional municipality of Haldimand-Norfolk received royal assent Friday.

Voters going to the polls in Haldimand and Norfolk counties on December 10th will have a choice of names for the new region: Erie or Haldimand-Norfolk.

The Record asked some Jarvis area residents their preference of a region title on Friday.

ED STIRE feels if the two counties are going to be amalgamated, the region should be named Haldimand-Norfolk.

He noted that there is a small area in Haldimand known as Erie, but he said "Erie" is a little

Youth Backs Into Trouble

A 22-year-old youth backed into trouble in Hagersville early Friday morning, causing $1500 damages at Webb Motors Ltd.

Hagersville Police Chief Warren Bugar told the Record Constable Erle Davidson and Constable Steven Hodgson heard noises coming from King St. W., which is approximately one block from the police office. They responded to the area and upon approaching Webb Motors, they observed a car from the inside of the building being driven in reverse out through the large garage bay doors. The car became stuck part way out of the doors.

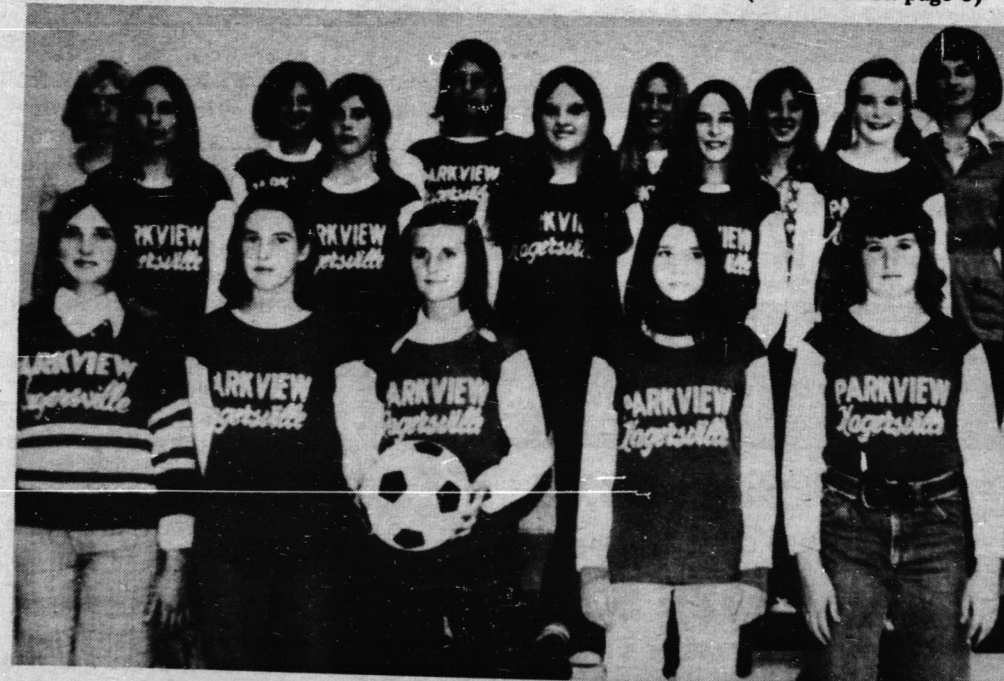

Chief Bugar said the officers entered the building and observed a person in another car that was also parked inside the garage reversing... heading for the large plate glass window located adjacent to the large garage door. The officers arrested one male suspect.

Chief Bugar said Edwin D. Atkins, 22, of R. R. 2, Ohsweken is to appear in Cayuga Provincial Court Oct. 24, charged with break, entry and theft, mischief and resisting arrest under the criminal code. Investigation revealed entry to Webb Motors Co. Ltd. was gained by breaking a small window
