Chalmers' folks don't like to close for the whole month so they are planning two Sundays at the end of the month, July 21 and 28 at 11 a.m. when the membership will conduct their own services; the men on Sunday and the women the other.

Church School closes in both Knox and Chalmers' for the month allowing the whole family to attend worship together.

Is Your Candidate Worth It?

On Monday, every Haldimand-Norfolk resident over the age of seventeen should be heading to the polls to elect the right man to represent our busy, rapidly-changing riding.... and a sound party to represent our nation.

By now every voter should have acquainted himself with each of our area candidates - Liberal David Marshall, NDP Norman Walpole and PC Bill Knowles.

Every voter should know each of these men, their plans and their party's sound plans. Every voter should have attended meetings, read newspaper articles or talked personally to all three candidates to learn each one's views on all issues of concern to us.... in order to make an intelligent and responsible vote.

Every voter should know what each candidate will do for not one, but every area of Haldimand-Norfolk, what issues the candidate has said he will specifically present in the house for H-N and whether he will speak out in the house and in the press for H-N citizens.

A candidate who has not offered specific proposals to present for the Haldimand-Norfolk citizen (you and I) in the House of Commons is an MP who will just sit back and vote on other MP's proposals.

A candidate who has no battles to wage for H-N is a voiceless MP filling a chair in Ottawa at the expense of H-N.

The people in this area need someone strong to look after their interests in Ottawa. Voting on party policies alone is not enough.

We pay in the neighbourhood of $24,000 for a person to represent us in Ottawa.

Stop and think! Is your candidate worth $24,000?

Will your candidate produce $24,000 worth of results for you?

And lastly, will not only us, but people in other ridings know our MP and know he is doing a job to represent H-N and Canada.

How Much Will Regionalism Cost Us?

Robert Nixon, Liberal Leader of the Opposition in Queens Park, is continuing to fight against the implementation of regional government across the province because of exorbitant costs.

Citing Government figures, Mr. Nixon said last week the costs of local government have risen sharply in all parts of the province where restructuring has taken place.

In Ottawa-Carlton expenditures went up 81 per cent in the first four years after regionalization he said. The rise in Niagara Region was 61 per cent in three years.

Mr. Nixon said that in 1970, the year before the District Municipality of Muskoka was created, municipal government costs in the area were less than four million dollars.

"A year later, municipal expenditures had increased by 76 per cent to almost $7 million, and after two years costs were up by 116 per cent to $8.5 million". In the same period taxes went up 76 per cent despite increased provincial subsidies.

He said that in the case of the new region of Durham, taxes were to have gone up 28 per cent this year despite $1.1 million in special provincial grants.

On The Farm Front

Cereal leaf beetle damage has been fairly heavy in some of the earlier seeded spring grains. A few fields have been sprayed with Sevin for control. The usual guidelines suggest spraying when two to three larvae are found per stem or six to nine per plant.

Mixing of weed control and insecticide chemicals is still being tested. Results of such mixtures on Michigan farms have been satisfactory so far.

In some early cut alfalfa this year the alfalfa weevil has required control measures in the after-growth or developing second cut. One case of damage in corn by the black cutworm has been reported. This is one of the underground species of cutworm. Available chemicals are not effective in treatment.

The proposed budget for the Administration Building in Cayuga is almost five times greater than the one in Simcoe.

At a meeting of Haldimand-Norfolk council in Cayuga last Thursday councillors approved in principle the Simcoe Building's budget of $21,600 for consideration within the consolidated budget. The Cayuga Building's proposed budget is $100,200.

Councillors also approved for further consideration the General Administration Budget of $74,600 and the Museum Budget of $17,700.

Community Chest

The Community Chest totals previously reported $2,201.70.

Collected to July 1, 1974 are: Eileen Doughty $44.00; Elsie Doughty $40.00; Mary Anderson $72.00, for a total of $2,357.70.

The Campaign Manager, Earl Slater thanks those who have completed their route but would like to draw attention to the fact that the campaign started June 1st with an objective of $2800.00 and several canvassers have not yet reported. The campaign is drawing to a close and those who have not sent in their donations are urged to do so. It is felt that the books will soon be closed and we are still far below the objective.

The Ontario Grain Corn Council has printed a 230 page publication containing the February 1974 Conference Proceedings. Considerable valuable information on the corn industry is reviewed in the addresses by the various speakers and panelists. A few copies are available at the county agricultural office at $1.00 each.

Contracts for Crop Insurance in 1974 number 19,295 compared with a total of 11,893 for the previous year. In addition 4372 farmers bought preplant coverage for protection against unseeded acreage.

Federation News

Beef producers are asking for a quota to limit the amount of U.S. beef and slaughter cattle allowed onto the Canadian market.

The Ontario Federation of Agriculture sent a letter to Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan backing demands for quotas made by the Ontario Beef Improvement Association and the Canadian Cattlemen's Association.

O.F.A. President Gordon Hill points out the need for quotas has become acute this spring. More than 66,000 head of U.S. slaughter cattle were imported by mid-April. This is more than four times the previous record number imported during the first quarter.

Beef producers also seek a hike in the tariff against imported U.S. beef and live cattle equal to the U.S. tariff against Canadian beef.

U.S. imports dropped off in recent weeks after Canada banned imports of all diethylstilbestrol-treated cattle. However, Canadian producers foresee a possible resurgence of U.S. imports if U.S. officials meet Canadian government standards and certify the cattle which have not been given the growth - speeding drug.

Our border must not be left open to an unlimited flow of depressed-priced U.S. beef. If U.S. cattle are certified as DES-free, and flood into Canada in uncontrolled numbers, our market price would drop by $10 cwt. If this happens, every dollar producers have made in the last four years will be left within the next six months, says Gordon Hill. However, he cautions producers not to panic - sell their cattle.

Watch the market carefully and get the best dollar possible for your stock.

The cost of producing slaughter cattle in Ontario today is about $53 per cwt. Producers are paid about $51 per cwt - $48 on the market and $3 in federal subsidy. In the U.S., prices on the glutted market have dived to about $38.

The O.F.A. also telegraphed Whelan insisting that beef groups analyse and approve any certification program permitting U.S. beef imports, before it is implemented.

KNOWLEDGE AND DEMOCRACY

When an election comes along the subject of Democracy always comes up. One party accuses another of acting in a way that is not democratic; another party boasts that it is the best safeguard of our democratic way of life and so on. It all makes one wonder what democracy really is and how it may be destroyed or preserved.

If you take a look around the world you will be surprised to see how large a part of the world is under the rule of dictators of various kinds. Some are dictators who rule alone as in Uganda. Others, such as Greece, are ruled by a little coterie of men, but there are no elections.

In Africa some form of dictatorship seems necessary to enable the new born states to get used to the idea that they are now the responsible rulers of their country. The leaders, however chosen, must educate the people so that they know what democracy means and how to operate it. From what we read in the papers, these temporary dictatorships seem to be doing a fair job (except Uganda of course).

In South America the situation is different. The people want democracy and would probably be able to handle it, but they are oppressed by powerful oligarchies which deny them liberty as we know it.

The other day I read an article in the Spectator (1973) which stressed the need for more education in democracy for us in Canada. We take it for granted that we are a democracy and then turn on the T.V. to watch a much more interesting programme. But we should be thinking about our democracy, our way of life, so that, come what may, we may be able to defend it. An American statesman of the past, James Madison, says this: "A popular government without popular information.... is but a prelude to a farce or a tragedy, or perhaps both".
