Hagersville Council Looks To Bigger And Better Future

Hagersville council ended its long reign of local government in the village with a look to the future Monday night....

and the beginning of a bigger and better era. One of the last resolutions carried by the five - man council concurred with a planning board motion approving in principle a new 190 Lot subdivision on the Dishke property as proposed by a developer.

A copy of the motion is being sent to H - N Chairman John McCombs, MPP James Allan, the chief regional planner and administrator. It's been "accepted in principle, but again we're tied up because of the sewage disposal plant," said reeve Jack Kincaid.

He told council he is trying to convince the new Town of Haldimand council that this matter "should be on the top burner" of area business....Because the village needs the housing.

If you put up a For Sale sign on your house and put a good price on it, you'd better start packing, he said, emphasizing the lack of housing in the area.

Councillor Robert Gedye concurred, saying his company is writing a letter to council because Manpower can't get workers to them because there's nowhere to house them, so the company can't get help.

He questioned whether some surface water couldn't be taken out of the sanitary sewers and a temporary expansion program undertaken.

Council reiterated the village's definite need for expanded services.

At the close of the meeting, each councillor - Dominic Vanni, Fred Brock and Robert Gedye, Deputy-reeve Norm Crawford and reeve Jack Kincaid expressed their thoughts on their

"The Music Man"-Hagersville Secondary School's 1974 Operetta production started this week.

And for those who missed last night's performance, it will be playing in the school auditorium tonight, (March 28), tomorrow night and Saturday.

Meredith Wilson's story of Harold Hill, a travelling salesman who moves from town to town selling the idea of a boy's band and then skips out before forming one is this year's hit.

This week's performance culminates months of hard work by Director George Shippey, cast and helpers.

The lead roles of the Music Man and Marion Paroo are being played by Becky Snowden, Elinor Winger, Don Hewitt and Phil Roth on alternating nights.

This year's production is H. S. S.'s fifth operetta and Mr. Shippey's eleventh for Haldimand.

Nanticoke Sets Salaries

The City of Nanticoke set the salaries for three of their top administrative personnel at a meeting in Port Dover Tuesday.

Both deputy - clerk Ken Kent and Coordinator Dave Wilson will receive an annual salary of $13,000. Deputy-treasurer Robert Lysch will get $11,000 per annum.

Harry Scott, chairman of the Finance and Administration committee, said councillor remuneration will be discussed at their next meeting.

Also at the meeting, councillors said they want three - not one - ratepayers serving on the regional land division committee.

Council discussed three names for the new position to work along with Keith Shay and the Land Division Chairman on severances etc.

However, Ward 3 representative Harry Scott maintained one ratepayer is not enough for Nanticoke - the "hub" of the region. Ward 1 representative Gordon Miller concurred and council's agreement on this issue was unanimous.

The region has already requested each local municipality to submit one ratepayer and one regional councillor's name to work on the 13 - man committee.

The ratepayer, councillor and chairman will sit at meetings in each local area.

At their April 9th meeting, council will interview Bill Evans, John Steel and Jack Goodall for the position in the event the region

Lions Hold Civic Night

A former lightweight champion boxer was in Jarvis Monday night and urged the local Lions Club to encourage boxing amongst Jarvis youth.

Speaking at the Club's Civic Night held in the Community Centre, Ed Beattie said it would be terrific to see boys from Jarvis go to the Olympics...and there must be times of the year when boys would enjoy coming to the hall for calisthenics.

A lot of people have misconceptions about the sport of boxing, he said. "It's a tough sport". But, he also described it as a great character builder.

Mr. Beattie, who started in the ring at the age of 12, has boxed professionally as well as an amateur and has come out with four Canadian gold gloves and several titles.

Usually it's a mother who objects to a son going into boxing, but Mr. Beattie assured them boys take more knocking playing foot-

The Long Point Conservation Authority has offered the City of Nanticoke four students to work with the municipality's public works department this summer.

Brian Howard of the authority told council Tuesday in Port Dover they would provide the S.W.E.E.P. manpower if the area would provide materials and supervision.

He said City of Nanticoke students, over the age of eighteen, have already applied for summer jobs which would pay approximately $2.50 per hour and they could be assigned to this area.

Suggested projects which could be undertaken, he said, are: clean up garbage along creeks such as Nanticoke; removal of dead elm trees; clean up of abandoned dump sites; general roadside tidying up; maintenance of municipal parks and painting of community halls.

Reeve Gordon Miller of Walpole said the township made use of
