C.C.N.A. contest announced

Our Hometown Paper - Two awards - $400. and a gold medal; $200. and a gold medal.

This is a unique award, since it is offered not to member papers, their staffs or regular contributors (they are specifically excluded) but to the reader of a CCNA weekly who best describes in his or her own words just what the weekly newspaper means to him or her.

The written expression of frank opinion should be at least 250 words but should not exceed 700.

Objective is to encourage CCNA readers themselves to think about what their weekly means to them, their families, their lives and their communities, and to set these thoughts down in straightforward language. Polished literary expression is not sought. The judges will be interested in simple, clear exposition that indicates an awareness by the reader of the role of the weekly in the community.

Member papers will, of course, have to advise their readers of this award and solicit such entries. Entries will first have to have been published in the member paper.

Canadian Community Newspapers Association, 12 Shuter Street - Suite 304 Toronto, Ontario, M5B 1A2 Phone (416) 366-4722

The submission will have to be made by the individual reader, jointly with the newspaper. There will be only one reader-winner. This individual will receive $400 and a gold medal. But because the publisher participates in obtaining such entries, and because winning submission is a reflection of his own position as a factor in the community, an award of $200. and a gold medal will be made to the publisher of the winning reader-entry.

Judges will not look for excessively high praise for the local weekly: they will study the judgement and understanding by readers of the function of the weekly. This could come from a weekly of any size - large or small.

Open to: Readers of all CCNA member papers only.

Living floral cross at United service

The 14 members of the Junior Choir at Hagersville's United Church morning worship service, each carried in a beautiful Easter Lily plant during the singing of Processional Hymn, "Jesus Christ is Risen Today". This largely-attended Easter service was held Sunday, March 30, at 11 a.m. with Church organist Mrs. Linda Aldis presiding throughout the service.

Mrs. Aldis also accompanied the Junior choir for their well-rendered anthem, "Crown Him With Many Crowns", which was under the direction of Mrs. Joyce Bradshaw. The large cross at the front of the Communion table held each of the Easter lily plants, which were later taken to a shut-in member in the church.

Senior choir members sang the anthem "The Strife is O'er", prior to the Sacrament of Communion being observed. Sermon topic of the morning, chosen by Rev. John W. Tobey, B.A., B.D., minister of the Pastoral charge, was "What The Open Tomb Means To Us". He reflected on the past, present and future aspects of the meaning of Easter, and the Open Tomb.

Sunday evening, March 30, an appropriate and enjoyable colour film was shown in the Christian Education Wing of the United Church. Prior to the showing of the film, a sing-song of Easter favourites was enjoyed by those in attendance, with Mrs. Joyce Bradshaw accompanying at the piano. The film, "I Beheld His Glory" was 55 minutes in length, and was also shown on Good Friday evening at the Springvale United Church.

Ontario to withdraw from marketing board

At a recent meeting of producers held in Mount Hope approximately 50 producers unanimously passed the following resolutions:

Whereas the Canadian Egg Marketing Agency has not been a benefit to Ontario egg producers and whereas Ontario producers have borne the largest share of the cost of surplus removal, be it resolved that the Ontario Egg Producers' Marketing Board serve notice of intention to withdraw from the Canadian Egg Marketing Agency as soon as possible.

Whereas it is agreed that production controls of egg imports are necessary for operation of supply management in the egg industry and whereas the present levy amounts to 10% of the gross returns from a dozen eggs, be it resolved that if production control and import controls and reduction of levy to below 2 cents per dozen are not obtained by July 1, 1975 that all efforts to apply supply management to the egg industry be abandoned.

There are many hen houses in Ontario or Canada that have hens in them in order to protect the quota. The quotas have kept the surplus hens in the hen houses.

So far the independent producer has been hurt most. But with some companies going out of the contract business, others cutting back and reducing the pay out, sooner or later the contract grower will also be hurt. Especially if we have further quota cutbacks.

Government sponsored and controlled marketing does and may work for some farmers and some commodities. But is it possible to make it work for eggs?

Those producers who have seen the government inspectors become a silent partner in their operation, now know that the egg business in Ontario cannot be controlled by marketing controls unless the egg producers in this province are turned into one large state controlled (collective) farm.

The time has come for

meet

The fifth meeting of the Lamb's Corners Poppies was held at the home of Mrs. Leona Fess Wednesday, March 19, at 7 p.m. The meeting was opened with the 4-H Pledge and the secretary's report was read by Mary Lou Nixon. The roll call, "Name the four substances added to enriched bread," was answered by all.

We cut and displayed our loaf of Sourdough Bread and we examined and discussed each loaf. Mrs. Fess showed us how to make the Hamburger Stacks which we all sampled. During the next week we are to make a fancy bread or rolls.

We then sampled the Hamburger Stacks and Wiener Wraps and the meeting was adjourned.

in the pricing of eggs to level out the rollercoaster effect (supply and demand) of the free market and to keep us in a profitable position all year round. Well you know what has happened to these two ideas.

What ever happened to pricing eggs according to the cost of production plus a reasonable return? What ever happened to the idea of pricing eggs uniformly across the country, according to the CEMA Pricing formula?

Why do we follow part of the time, the Quebec Market and other times the U.S. Market?

Egg Prices

The Board got involved

There is no consistency to the price setting policy that the Board seems to follow. If we are following the U.S. market for eggs, why don't we do a better job of it? If we had followed the U.S. market over the past 3 years, and taking the levy in consideration, we would have been better off then what we have been to date by an average of 3 cents per dozen - per week.

Levy

Levies were supposed to be used for the operation of the Marketing Board, promoting and advertising of eggs. When was the last time you saw eggs being promoted to the consumer? When was the last time you saw a promotion telling the public the true facts behind "Egg Beaters"? Yes, we are losing egg sales each and every day to this new product.

Levies have varied from a low of 1/3 cent per dozen to a high of 9 cents per dozen. Over nearly 3 years, this works out to an average levy of 3 cents per dozen - per week. Or $5,000.00 per year per 10,000 hens. Presently, the levy is 5 cents per dozen. But keep in mind that the Board is over $2 million in debt today. In order to repay this, levies will have to be increased to 8 cents per dozen. With the Board's overhead, the state of CEMA, levies will never fall again below 4 cents per dozen.

At one time 4 cents per dozen was considered a good profit. Now we merely pay it to the Board and we are not making a profit.

Market Share

Remember the good old days, when we in Ontario supplied 45 per cent of the Canadian egg market. Then CEMA came along and we were cut back to 38 per cent (continued on page 7)
