

These two young ladies appear anxious to get a bargain at the White Elephant Table.

Region cheated on population grants

Mayor Alfred Judd, Simcoe, told last Thursday's meeting of Haldimand-Norfolk regional council that

Jarvis students raise $130

by Irene Slofstra, Rosie Rauwerda, Mary Ann De Graaf

The Christian School Educational Foundation celebrates its silver anniversary this year. For 25 years the Foundation has been providing funds towards the writing and publishing of Christ-centered learning materials.

Students of Jarvis District Christian School celebrated Foundation Day on February 14. Everyone brought items to be sold for lunches. Also, many children brought toys, puzzles, books, the region is being cheated on provincial grants because of inaccurate population figures.

etc. for a White Elephant Sale. After everything had been sold or eaten, we had an amount of $130.00 to send to the Foundation.

Band places second

With only one point separating them from top position, Hagersville Secondary School Band placed second in the Toronto Kiwanis Music Festival Tuesday night. Hagersville band scored 89 points out of a possible 100 while a Toronto band scored 90. There were five other bands competing in the class.

Residents will get a chance to sample Hagersville Band's music on Wednesday, Feb. 26. The band will be holding a concert at 8 p.m. at the high school.

The Sideliners Quartet will be Hagersville's guests for the night. An admission charge of $1 will be charged at the door. Tickets can be obtained from band members or parents, and Hagersville High School.

Proceeds of the concert will send the band out east this summer to tour Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Newfoundland.

Easter Seals

Campaign Chairman of the Jarvis Lions Club Easter Seal Committee Arthur Blight, says "The Jarvis Lions Club, in co-operation with the Ontario Society for Crippled Children, is determined to meet the increased quota of nearly $1,700 despite the fact we fell a little short of our 1974 objective."

Every Jarvis household will receive a letter in the mail shortly, requesting your support to "Back A Fighter", and help crippled children with Easter Seals. Watch the Record or phone 587-2673, Jarvis, for further information.

Separate School Board rejects budget

The Roman Catholic Separate School Board refused a 400 per cent increase over last year's professional development budget at its Feb. 17 meeting, Simcoe.

R. Klein, representative for the Professional Development Committee, asked the board to increase the budget from last year's $3,250 to $13,000. Mr. Klein said the increase was largely due to a decision to make more money available for individual school development. This accounted for 40 per cent of the proposed budget.

Trustee Walter VanLaeken told the Board that the request for $13,000 was a "fictitious number". Mr. VanLaeken advised Mr. Klein to take the budget back to his committee, suggesting that it should not be "just pared down, but slaughtered".

It was decided to turn the proposed budget over to the budget committee for further consideration. The Board allocated $1,400 to the Professional Development Committee to help them get under way while the budget was being considered.

In other business before the Board, it was decided to increase the school boards school liability insurance to three million dollars. A delegation of four insurance agents, separate school supporters of the two counties, convinced the Board that an increased coverage was needed. The Board has its insurance policy with Frank Cowan Insurance Company. Each of the four agents will receive part of the commission.

The Board decided to send four delegates to the Midwestern region conferences in London, Oct. 9, 10 and 11. A conference

(continued on page 8)

Firefighters celebrate 50th

The Jarvis Volunteer Firemen's group celebrates its 50th anniversary this year.

If you have clippings, pictures, or stories to tell about their activities during the past half century, the firemen would appreciate it if you could contact one of the members, or hand in your material to Jack Cooke's Jewellery Store. The firemen plan to write a history of their brigade.

Vol. 98, No. 8

Thursday, February 20, 1975

15c a copy

No school for Jarvis

The 1975 capital expenditure forecast, which requested a new public school for Jarvis at a cost of $620,000, has once again been passed over by Regional Office, according to Haldimand Board of Education.

The Board received correspondence from Regional Office giving the go-ahead for an addition to Grandview School, Dunnville, for $218,000, but no approval has been given for the new Jarvis school.

Management committee told board members, however, that they were aware there could be residential development in the Jarvis area resulting in accommodation problems for Jarvis Public School. The Board has decided the solution is to bus students to Walpole North.

Trustees also discussed the possibility of setting up a second class for the perceptually handicapped. The locations of these new classes will likely to Dunnville and Hagersville.

The overall 1975 budget projections indicate an increase of 22.82 per cent in the elementary level and 19.22 in the secondary level.

Board members felt the increases were excessive and that cuts would have to be made, particularly in the secondary school level.

Trustees also discussed the possibility of raising their own salaries Wednesday night. Board members noted that there had been no increase in their salaries since Jan. 1, 1969. It was suggested that trustee wages be raised to $200 per month and $300 for Chairman of the Board.

Don Duxbury, Jarvis, commented, "Surely an increase of $200 wouldn't be out of line in view of everything else that is going on around us. We would have to believe that this is well within reason." The matter was discussed further in a committee-of-the-whole meeting later that night.

Rev. A.J. Tribe, new rector for St. Paul's Parish.

Correction

In our Feb. 6 issue, the Record printed a front page story with the headline, "Stelco Preserves Showplace".

February 14 we received a phone call from Mrs. Maythem Sr., who told us that our spelling of Colonel Lowes, owner of the estate home on the old Chambers Road, is incorrect. The spelling of Colonel Lowes should have appeared as Colonel Low. Thank you Mrs. Maythem Sr.

These girls can't seem to be able to decide between ham and cheese, and peanut butter and jam, while the young man in the background couldn't wait for popcorn.