date with the curators.

On behalf of the Lambs

Corners W.I. Mrs. George

Hedges, First Vice Pres.

presented a 100 cup coffee maker, property of the W.I.

branch to Mr. William Booth

Chairman of the Cheapside

Hall Board and Mr. Kenneth

Bartlett, Secretary-treasurer,

to be used in the Cheapside

Community Hall. It was used for the first time at the community shower Saturday of Schomberg are spending holidays with Mr. and Mrs.

Hagersville, spent Sunday

George Hedges.

Angela and Billie Hedges

Mrs. John Vanloon

SEE YOU AT CHURCH

THE CHURCH OF CHRIST (Christian Chapel) Selkirk Dr. Ben Woodruff 9:55 a.m. Bible School 11:00 a.m. Worship 7:30 Evening Services (1st and 3rd Sunday) Bible Studies at 7:45 ALL WELCOME

PRESBYTERIAN (Phone 587-2565)

CHALMERS'

(The Stone Church Hwy.3 & Cheapside Sde. Road) 10 a.m. Family fime KNOX - Jarvis

(42 Main North) Joint services Wesley at Knox

11 a.m. worship

Rev. Taylor-Munro's theme "TRAGEDY OF THE COMMONPLACE"

ANGLICAN CHURCH Rev. Arthur J. Tribe Phone 587-2543 July 13th TRINITY 7

Christ Church, 10:00 a.m. Holy Communion St. Paul's, 11:30 a.m. Morning Prayer

> MILL STORE PORT DOVER

(by the Water Tower)

Beach Towels $2.97 *.29 Balls

Zippers 3/50° Patterns 3/$1.00

Ladies, Mens, Childrens

T-Shirts Glasses

Mugs 3/1.00 NOW OPEN

MILL

PORT DOVER

(by the Water Tower)

Cheapside news

Mrs. Sider also accompanied him. They had dinner with his sister, Mabel newlyweds Jim and Nancy and dinner at the Cheapside fleet BIC Church Sunday brother and uncle. Reverend tute Club or church picnic. (Bassindale) Lamb, at the Hall on Sunday noon. Community Hall, Cheapside, Reverend Earl M. Sider church.

was supply minister in the The family of the late absence of the holidaying Gordon and Mrs. Bartlett has pastor Rev. Ronald Loft-

Selkirk Firefighters Assoc.

Fish Fry

Saturday July 19th, 6 p.m.

at the Selkirk Community Hall

adm. $3.00 for adults

$2.00 children under 12.

Haldimand Norfolk Liberal Association

NOMINATATION

CONVENTION

8 P.M. Wednesday July 16, 1975

Jarvis Community Centre

To select the Liberal Candidate for the riding of Haldimand Norfolk

Guest Speaker

Hugh Edighoffer

M.P.P. Perth Chief Critic

Consumer & Commercial Relations

Only those with 1975 Membership Cards obtained prior to July 14, 8 P.M. or renewable 1974 Cards may vote

For further information telephone 416-772-5794 or

* PATIO DINING ROOM

* ERIC the RED LOUNGE

"CITY STYLE, COUNTRY SMILE"

Enjoy Our "EXPLORGASBORD" (smorgasbord)

Saturday and Sunday - 4:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Reservations Accepted Children Under 12 Years 1/2 Price

Live Entertainment - Dancing Nightly

AND

Heated Pool

IF YOU AND YOUR FAMILY ENJOY SOMETHING DIFFERENT ...

Poolside Rooms

Individual Heating, a/c

APPEARING THIS WEEK

WELCOME TO THE

and husband Frank Tucker of Wainfleet. Luella Lofthouse and Marjie Heise attended the funeral of their uncle Paul Sider, brother of Mrs. Ida Heise, at Wainfleet Church,

Birth

Monday afternoon. Sympathy is extended to the sister

COLUMBUS - Kathy is happy to announce the birth of her baby sister, Karen Christine, 8 lbs. 10 ozs. on July 4, at West Haldimand General Hospital. Proud parents are Charles and Karen of Jarvis.

JOHNSON - George and Debra of R.R. 2 Oshweken are proud to announce the birth of their son, 8 lbs. 15 ozs., on July 6 at West Haldimand General Hospital. A brother for Verna and MAXWELL - Norman and Maureen of Hagersville are happy to announce the birth of their daughter Deborah Anne, 7 lb. 13 ozs. on July 7 at West Haldimand General Hospital. A sister for Diana.

OPEN DAILY

A shower was tendered to their annual family reunion house at the Winger-Wain- and family in the loss of a for a family, Women's Instimorning, his former home Earl Sider, a cousin, and Anyone is welcome to make Mrs. Sider, also attended. an appointment or book a > Bruce Cronk a native of Cheapside Community, his wife and family of Buffalo, New York, and Raymond, his brother, and wife of Selkirk, both pupils at SS No 2 Walpole, now the school museum, came back Sunday p.m. for a browse around the old school -- many memories are recalled, pictures of teachers and pupils and inspectors take you back -'down memories lane." To the young, the newness of the old, is something to remember. Others came from Hagersville and Hamil-

The Faith Centennial afternoon and evening with United Church women had Mrs. George Hedges. their picnic in the form of a Mrs. James Secord. Port ton despite the July heat.

noon pot-luck dinner, on Dover, spent the weekend Wednesday at the school with Mr. and Mrs. William museum. The cool tree- Lamb and attended the comshaded park in this quiet munity shower of Saturday setting is a delightful place evening at Cheapside.

Sunshine club by Ruth Hagan met in the I.O.O.F. Hall on low went to Freeman Fields. Thursday July 3 with four The travelling Hoss was won tables of Hoss in play. The by Harold Johnson which Hoss winners were as fol- was a box of macaroni. lows: ladies high went to Nina Stone; ladies low went Our next card game will be to Clara Fields. Men's high July 10 at 1:30 p.m.

The Jarvis Sunshine Club went to Roy Mitchell and the

SPRINGVALE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION'S

Annual Fish Fry SATURDAY, JULY 12, 1975

> 5 p.m. - 8 p.m. Adults $3.25 - Children 6-12 $2.25 Under Six Free All You Can Eat, Dessert Included

WEEKLY SATURDAY at 7 p.m. ANTIQUES - FURNITURE - ETC.

Jarvis Auction Mart HWY. 6 at HWY. 3, JARVIS, ONTARIO CONSIGNMENTS WELCOME -

"OPEN ALL DAY SATURDAY" ESTATES BOUGHT AND SOLD

Editorial

How many of you have wondered, when the Record falls out of your mailbox or slaps into the gravel driveway outside your home, how it gets there? How is a paper made and how much time does it involve?

Step one, of course, is getting news. What you see in the Record, comes to the office in a variety of ways. Correspondence makes up much of a weekly newspaper. Columns like the Cheapside News, the Hagersville Highlights, the Selkirk Scene, and reports on women's intitute meetings and lion club reports, are sent in by people who wish to inform others about what is going on in their area.

Most of the correspondents are paid at the rate of 20 cents per column inch for what is used for publication Some correspondents refuse to take any payment. They are all, however, dedicated people and the 20 cents does not go too far in offsetting the costs and time they incur in writing up weekly columns. The rest of the material is written by the reporters who work for the paper, or are press releases.

Most of the copy, as it is called, is mailed in. This copy must be edited for spelling, grammar, punctuation, and sentence structure. It must also be edited for libelous remarks or statement which might offend anyone.

The edited copy then goes to the compugraphic typist for setting into cold type. A compugraphic machine looks much like any typewriter, but instead of typing onto a sheet of paper, the words are typed onto photographic paper, which is developed as if it were a roll of film, in the darkroom. The finished product, which is set into columns of print automatically by the compugraphic machine, is hung up to dry.

This process is called cold type, or offset, because it replaced the old method of hot type, or letterpress. Before the compugraphic machine was widely used, most small papers were content with letterpress. Using this method, words were typed onto a machine similar to a typewriter, but instead of coming out on paper, as previously described, the words came out as raised surfaces on strips of lead. The offset method replaced letterpress because it was cheaper and much easier to handle, as well as giving a better looking finished

After the printed columns have dried, they must be trimmed down to 11/2 inch widths. A proofreader reads the columns to check for spelling mistakes or other errors made by the compugraphic typist.

The next step is to take the columns to the waxing machine. The waxer contains liquid wax, and the printed columns are run through the machine so that a wax film is built up on the back of the columns. This is an essential step in what is called paste-up.

In paste-up, the editor or layout artist must decide what each finished page will look like. The stories, or columns, and pictures are then arranged on 16 by 10 and three-quarter inch sheets which are called flats. The process is called paste-up because the wax acts as a type

When the flats are completely pasted-up, they are photographed and developed, again, as if it were a roll of film, only on a larger scale.

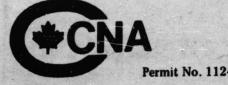

The final step before the paper goes to the presses, is platemaking. Flat metal plates, usually, made of aluminum or zinc, and about the thickness of tin cans, are made light sensitive. The flat is fastened to the plate with cellophane tape and then "printed" as if it were a negative. The metal plate is then developed.

The metal plates are fed into the press and the newspaper is run off. The finished product arrives in your mailbox or in your driveway.

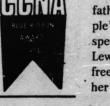

Now that you know how we do it, would anyone like a job? Seriously, however, if you or a small group would like to see the operation firsthand, give me a call and I will arrange to take you through and give you a better look at the newspaper business. Ms. Trisha D. Banks

The Jarvis Record

Published at Jarvis, Ontario, Box 160
Publisher, Jeremy Brown
Editor, Trisha Banks
Layout Design, Nancy Quanbury
Irene Pamplin, Advertising $5 per year in Canada $6 per year in U.S.A.

Sometimes it hangs almost over the screen, especially during Mannix. Some shows, it doesn't bother watching. My sister has tied it to the wall with strong cord but it manages to hang over the screen for Man-

furrow" Bit Litter

One foot in the

I don't know what will happen when that brute finds out that the Mannix shows have been cancelled by the network this year. I've never asked whether it likes

That same brother-in-law has a garden that is lush and green throughout the growing season. He loves to go out and sing to them and he can't carry a tune in a locked suitcase. He takes an old kitchen broom out in the garden with him and strums it like a guitar. And he sings to those plants. They love it. Some years ago, I took singing lessons and even if I do say so myself, I was Canada's answer to Enrico Caruso. Few people agreed with me, mind you, but I could at least carry a tune. All the plants at our place did was wither and die when I sang to them.

A few years ago, we read an article in a gardening magazine about how to plant bulbs in pots at certain times of the year and have beautiful daffodils at Christmas time. We tried it. Followed all the directions. Nursed those things right from bulbs to puberty.

them in a pot and they just sit there. They don't grow. The green came up and then stopped. The flipping They don't die. The just sit, green with envy as they bulbs rotted in the soil until one day, my wife decided to scare them into growing. I think the cat scared them. She - the cat - sat be-She shouted Fire! Fire! Three times as loud as that To a stalk, those green shoots turned black and died. A fellow from the Madoc area has asked me where to buy fertilizer in a special mixture so he can follow the directions for his gardening efforts. I'm sorry, sir. Taking gardening advice from me is like asking a child of three to explain Einstein's theory of relativity. Go to your closest farm supply store and let them guide you.

If you take my advice every plant in your garden will thumb its nose at you.

Record correspondent in Ottawa

Most Canadians are cynical when a political leader speaks about his life and his houghts. We have been conditioned to believe that People are born with a green thumb

tions, in Victoria County.

my family.

Almost everything they touch will grow. My father was a grower for more than 40 years. As a greenhouse man, he grew some of the best cyclamen, snapdragon, stocks, geraniums - you name it - especially carna-

I did not inherit his abilities. Nor did anyone else in Everything we touch in the plant world tends to die.

I have a box of begonias in the front garden. When we got them a month ago, they looked healthy enough to eat. Beautiful, delicate red blooms. Lush, dark green foliage. I followed the directions right to the letter.

Dug the hole. Put a cupful of 20-20-20 fertilizer into

In 10 days time, they looked like a cow had stepped

I even went out and talked to them a couple of times

Again, a sister-in-law gave us a couple of slips of ivy

It winds around an archway, down the wall, across a chimney and up another wall. We thought the children of that vine would brighten our family room. We put side them in the window sill and nibbled at them now and again so they decided to remain almost hidden in Vegetables are different. We can grow them. But I have a brother-in-law with a green thumb. Fact is.

his whole hand is green. He talks to plants. He has them coming out his ears. He has a monstrous, ugly brute of a philodendron in his livingroom, a massive plant. No matter what my sister does to that plant, it continually grows out from the wall so that it can to brighten the house. Her vine has taken over the the hole. Planted the begonias. Watered them.

Droopy. Off-color. Losing petals.

but they didn't like my voice.

look out the window at the grass.

retiring New Democratic -Party leader, David Lewis, Lewis spoke to 1,500 party supporters in Winnipeg during the NDP leadership convention to relate the happiness and difficulties of his Unlike most politicians Mr. Lewis was not attempting to win votes in an election. He decided to step down as a leader of the party several months ago and con sequently spoke for the party's future, not his own.

Mr. Lewis came to Canada when he was 12-years-old, the son of a Polish leather worker. He attended McGill University and later graduated as a Rhodes scholar from Oxford University in England. He is currently back in the academic community, teaching at Ottawa's

The political life of Mr. Lewis stemmed from his father's concern with people's rights. During his final speech to the party, Mr. Lewis said his first taste of freedom came when his father was nearly killed by Carleton University.

Soviet police for his political people. It is the goal of our many joys and sorrows browork, had it not been for the party; it is the reason for its ught on in the competitive insistence of the many nei- existence."

the prime function of a a promising law career in tion in attempting to reach politicians tell us when politician is to be re-elected Montreal to work without pay the working Canadian. He

> Douglas as national leader. In his last speech to the party Saturday evening Mr. plea to the supporters of the current scoialist movement from the corporations to the ed for his life to be spared. behind him. Mr. Lewis spoke an easy one. Perhaps we In later years Mr. Lewis left of the bitter years of frustra-should be cynical of what for two years with the CCF spoke of the sacrifices his secretary in 1938. He held the in the early years of the party post until 1950 when he and the periods of election became national president. fever. The 66-year-old gran-In 1971 he replaced T.C. dfather turned to look at the > politicians as being calloused bitter people who employ ghboring citizens who plead- With his family on stage The game of politics is not

But when they retire and no longer have to count on the the sacrifices they have -

David Lewis may now teach young people in the university courses and use all his wisdom and experience in explaining why the community of politics is so import-

Good-bye Mr. Lewis and effective transfer of power remember they too have thank you. Old politicians

Don't be cheap Letter to the Editor

Thanks for mentioning our grandson's (Larry Ryder) paper. We have many relatives and friends in Jarvis and Walpole townships. Thanking you again, buy your wife, girl (or why not both) a gift

GARNET GIFT SHOP

BOB'S SUNOCO, HWY. 6 AT GARNET

NEXT WEEK: PANADAS  990 ★ SENECA and WALPOLE ROOMS Banquet Facilities for 50 to 400 Meeting rooms and equipment. Facilities for all Occasions  7 Days a Week * 60 LUXURIOUS GUEST ROOMS Color TV Free Ice Free Parking

Norfolk Knitters Ltd. STORE