CENTENNIAL CHATTER

Centennial Week has come and gone. But memories of it linger on. Old friends I met from near and far like Morgan Hewson and Oscar Marr, Doctor Lewis, daughter Edith and Grace. A pleasure it was to look at each face. Met J. J. Parsons, heard the speech he made. And saw his dear wife in that fine parade. Saw William Parkinson, who is Ninety-four. A Centenarian he will be in six years more. Saw J. S. Burwash and his charming wife. Been good friends of mine most all of my life. Saw Will Meehan and his wife Luella. Say she really copped a real good fella. Saw his brothers Albert and Andrew. And both of them are fine fellows too. Saw Wad. Mason, Don Graydon, his sister Mayme. The Graydon girls always looked good to me. Saw Cam, Allen, Lenora and Harry Agnew, and many more relations, which I have long knew. William Simpson, his wife and daughter Isobel. Saw Fred Newman, Andy Smith, Leah Park and Zel. Many others I met not mentioned this time. 'Cause the words I know with their names do not rhyme. I'll tell you now of faces I missed. I missed the men of the Allen clan. Charles, Dave and Bryce, Albert, Steve and Sam. Missed Messrs. Hunter, Hammond, Aiken and Duff. They taught us read 'n' an' writin' an' all that stuff. Missed Ben Millenbacher, his camera and fiddle. His better half, Julia long way round the middle. Missed James Allen, John Aiken, and Matthew Brown. But remember the time he cane downtown With a halter to lead home a raffled cow. Homer Underhill led it to his haymow For many a wagon he turned the wheel. Missed Lewis Miller, Charles Yocom, John Lambert. For many a wagon he turned the wheel. Missed Lewis Mill, Charles Yocom, John Lambert. For many he exchanged a shroud for a shirt. Missed J. A. Burwash a ruddy blond. A man whose word was good as his bond. Miss Edward E. J. Sill, and old Cap Jones. There long fore Jarvis paved the road with stones. Missed William Hewson, James Whitwell, and David Hill. Joe Ivey; James Graydon, and Bob Smith at the mill. William Pearson, John Pelly, and Isaac Fissette. The way we teased Fred Hind I will never forget. Missed Doctors Bennett, Howell, and Jacques. Who put the "jinx on the turkey aches." and how I missed old "Kyer" Mills. Who served us with powders, liquids and pills. Stan Ivey, Jim Roberts, "Goosey" Sill. (Get over Nell till I braid your tail.) Not many will know just what that phrase means. If Jim heard you say it, he'd warn your jeans Missed both Charles and Robert MacCarter. I used to run around with his daughter. One night she left me in the lurch. She went to bed right after church. I sat there with Cecil Graydon and her sister. Had I sat much longer, "I had a blister Missed Tom Morrow, Ed Hart, Bob Pealow. Eavertroughing with him I used to go. Sometimes we went up, went up pretty high. The pay wasn't big, but neither was I. Missed "Dri" Winger, Nimshi Coulter, Jim Boothe the bear. When we called him, that we oft got a good scare.

Missed George Honey, Joe Awde, William Jacques, James Mowat Unless I improve, you'll think I'm a bum poet. Marshall Priest, Henry Jackson and Walter Swing. Gainst any of them I could not say a thing. Phil Newman and Joe Gates were equally good. Park Montgomery and John built houses of wood. Sam, Mann painted them, and painted them well. As both Ezra and Jacob, Park could tell. Sam, and Sylvester Underhill, real old timers. William Peterson's roses were lovely climbers. To Ned, Cummings we went to charm our warts, Old Ned, sometimes took a couple of snorts. Sam. Vance was another, who like a drop. But he didn't know the right time to stop. Frank Lindsay, William Porter, Gid. Snyder and Sile. If you get tired reading this, just rest awhile. Messrs. Mootie, Sovereign, and Patsy Brock. Who sometimes struck out, when he tried to sock The ball away out past the second base. Missed the Dellers, William, John Ern., and Stace. Tom Priestland, Tom, Wilcox, and Frank Brohman, More faces which I in memory scan. William Glanfield, Frank Heartwell, James Bigger, William Falls. Are more of the faces, which my memory recalls. Albert Booth, William Barr, John Stadder, Hank Hall, George Miller, and Isaac Jacques, some short some tall. J.C. Sanderson, Peter Creighton, William Caldwell, Ed. Lea, Doc, Coleman Tom and Alfred Underhill. James Noble, George Histed, John Edwards, James Moore. Jonathan Porter, Bob Beck, and Lewis Laur. Bob Easton, Bob Ward, William Chambers and Jim. It sure is a long time since I saw him. Matt Johnson William Jennings, Tom Inson and Will, Tom Knaggs, Clint Culp, John Crawford, Dave and Robert Campbell. Albert Winger, Tommy Harris, and C.E. Bourne. Thomas Eaid, Ed. Eaid, Charles Jackson, and Ike Osborne. Norris Smithson, Homer, Will and Walt. Better stop soon fore Laird calls a halt. William Abraham, James Henning, Marshall Roberts and Gus Weil. Car. Anderson and Jim Acker, who were always dressed in style. James Crossen, James McMicken, Roly. Elmore, Pete. Armstrong. Jim Harrison and Lewis Reid who were not very long. John W. Rodgers, his brother Charlie, and their father also were missed by me. Missed the Churches, William, John, Herb, and Ab. At baseball he used to make a good stab. Ake Falls, Harry Cave, Jim Jones, Coon Mather. John McNeany and Jimmie Sharpe are all remembered by me. Missed Messrs. Gardner Piper, Buchanan, Spencer, Boyd, Cousins, Wass and MacLennan. Prudham, Jackson, Foot, Laidman and Scanlon. All of them good preachers, every one. The ladies I missed, have mentioned one or tow. Many others I missed that were good and true. Some were nice and plump, some slim and sleek. To tell about them would take a full week. But the faces missed most by this Jarvis lad Were the dear faces of my mother and dad. If you've read this chatter, you have proved you are game. So I will sign off right now. Wes Rodgers my name.

TRIVIA

Anxious? You don't know the meaning of the word anxious unless you're a sports car owner surrounded entirely by dogs. The way things are going you feel like a fool playing a five-year calendar. And everybody has problems—but the guy next door, he's like a Freudian Smorgasbord.

Jarvis Lions

The regular meeting of the Jarvis Lions held in the Community Centre November 10 with a good turn-out of members and one make-up. Lion in attendance. During the supper, Lion Klaas Druyff thanked the ladies of the Presbyterian Couples Club for the fine meals and service we received over the past few meetings. Well done Klaas and ladies.

Busy ex-banker Bert Pyfrom has his hand out for a donation from all lions, which in turn will be turned over to the L.I.F. (Lions International Foundation) to help allay the suffering of people in other lands; those in misery left homeless by hurricanes, earthquakes, and floods and also for education, health and the erecting of buildings.

Turkey raffle and draw is slated for Dec. 13. The tickets for the $2,500 prize have been handed out to all members so for one person 13 will be very lucky. Remember that this is a family night. So the more the merrier and there will be lots of turkeys to be won.

Lion Stan Atkinson thanked all who helped him make the annual Halloween Party successful. Jim Mehlenbacher gave a report on the Remembrance Day Parade which turned out to be a real nice day, with a good turn out of Lions, The Hagersville Band, Calvinettes, Cubs and Brownies and soloist Bob Lenos making the day a little more pleasant. The guest speaker was Rev. Robert Hyde from Hagersville.

Lion Bob Miller reported on the mini-convention held in the Hagersville High School, sponsored by the Lions of the town. He had nothing but praise for the way it was handled, the presence this year of wives, good meal and the fine speaker, Rev. Bob Runball, who is active in working with the deaf. Lion Viggs also rose to report on the progress of the tennis courts. After listening to his mini report, wouldn't be surprised if snow balls will be used instead of tennis balls, for awhile anyway.

New Year's Dance! give your ays or naves at the next meeting (Nov. 14) In case you haven't told your wife that there will be one this year, this is a little reminder.

Lion Raymond Robinson introduced his guest speaker Phil Pocock an application engineer employed by Liquid Carbonic. He outlined to us the manufacturing of gases, how gas can be broken down into components, storing cancer tissue in liquid nitrogen for examination at a later date and the difficulty and expense of storing of gases. Lion Coyne Leatherdale thanked Mr. Pocock and presented him with a momento of his visit.

Come dance with us on Saturday Nov. 24 to the music of Lionel Thornton. A coat and tie a must, plus the making of the day a little more pleasant. The guest speaker

Hagersville Band Parents meet

The first meeting of the Hagersville Secondary School Band Parents met in the music room on Wed. Nov. 12, 1975. The meeting was opened by Mr. Paul Personick, last year's band parent president. Mr. Shippey spoke on the Band Bazaar planned for Dec. 13 at the high school. Mrs. Peart read the minutes from the June 5th meeting. This was followed by the election of officers. They are as follows: President - Al Scott by acclamation; Vice President -

Howard Hewitt; Secretary - Mary Mitchell; and Treasurer - Bob Gedye.

Al Scott then took over the meeting. There were four volunteers for taking tickets at the lunch at the bazaar. The next meeting will be Dec. 3 in the music room at 8 p.m. The band is selling tickets on a beautiful stereo at 50c each. The draw will be held at the bazaar.

The new project for the band parents is to raise money to buy the band new jackets.

Selkirk Scene

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McKenzie and family spent the weekend at Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hicks in Niagara Falls.

Jean Kindy has been a patient in Dunnville Hospital after surgery but I understand she is home now, and recovering very well.

Mrs. Dawson Hoover is a patient in Dunnville Hospital. We wish her a speedy recovery.

The community was saddened and shocked by the sudden passing of a life-long resident of the area, John Swarts. Johnny will be sadly missed by Ena, Charles, several nephews and a niece of a very close family, and also by his many friends and neighbours.

The community is also saddened to hear of the death of Mr. Roger Dennis of Nanticoke.

Art and Margaret Johnson spent the weekend in Barrie visiting Margaret's sister.

Sunset

While earth shall last our God will paint the sunsets
With unsurpassing beauty for mankind,
With colours of deep rose and purest gold -
Out in the western sky I will not find
A greater glory then I now can see,
Though I might search most faithfully and long;
There could not come from any human mind
Expressive words or music for a song
To fill the soul with wonder such as this.
Surely the Saviour loved this hour so much
And tears of re-assurance filled His eyes,
Because He too, could feel the Artist's touch.
