Flyers win opener

The Hagersville Flyers opened the 1975 exhibition season with a 4-2 win over the Simcoe Jets in a game played in Simcoe. The Jets scored the first goal of the game in the first period when Mike Brodie finished off a three way passing play with Brad Smith and Scott Rom-bough. Brodie is the Simcoe captain and also was the top scorer in the league last year. The Flyers had Richard Noon in goal for the first period, and he was the victim of the first goal.

Mike Tarnam tipped in a shot by Doug Murray less than a minute after Simcoe had scored to make it a 1-1 hockey game. Simcoe sat out 6 of the 11 penalties called in the first period. Wayne Howard and Paul McSorley picked up the only majors of the period.

Dennis Smith scored two goals less than 3 minutes apart in the second period to give Hagersville the lead and they never looked back after this. The second Smith goal proved to be the winner as Simcoe picked up a goal before the period ended. Simcoe's tally was by Steve Jones, with Frank Faludi getting the assist. Jeff Warnock played goal for the Flyers in the second period and Phil Nie played the last twenty minutes. Paul McSorley and Roger Martin earned assists on the first goal by Smith, with Darrel Watson and Martin setting up the second goal. The last Flyer goal was scored by Doug Murray with Doug Longland picking up the assist. The teams traded penalties in the second period with Simcoe sitting out 6 of the 11 penalties in the scoreless third period.

Coach Vic Porter of the Simcoe Jets went with a full crew of 22 players including most of his holdovers from last year. Coach Jim Hall of the Flyers dressed only 17 with 12 of them being classed as rookies. The young fellows showed a lot of hustle and it is hoped some of the seasoned players will take note. The first scheduled league game for the Flyers will be on October the 19th when they host Dunnville.

Erie League Championship Goes to Nanticoke

For the first time in its 27 year history a Nanticoke team has won the Erie League Championship. Many of the players on the team played for the former championship teams in the area but this was the first time that the team had been called Nanticoke. The team was sponsored by Charles Jones Industrial who outfitted the team in very colourful uniforms. Baird Jones of the Nanticoke division said he was very happy to have been able to sponsor a winning team in the area.

John Lindsay who was manager, coach, and water boy when he had to be thought this was one of the best teams he had ever coached. The team won 36 games and lost 14 on the way to the championship. They finished second in the nine team league, but in the last half of the season were almost unbeatable. In the play-offs they took Springvale in two straight games 6-5 and then 3-2. In the finals against Abington the series went the full three games. Nanticoke won the first game 5-3, lost the second one 4-3 but won the third and deciding game 6-5. Al Gowan who shared the pitching chores with John Nie all season worked the last 5 games winning 4 of them. Sharing the spot light with Gowan in the last game was Jim Lamb. Lamb had a home run and 2 singles, drove in 2 runs and scored two more. George Fehrman led the team in hitting all year and coach Lindsay could not say enough about the big fellow. Captain Floyd Weaver thought all the boys played well and felt most of them would be back next year to make it two championships in a row.

Bigger groups expected at Explorer Inn

BY PETER CUDHEA

No matter what type of music you prefer, the Explorer Inn at Jarvis has got it. If it's rock and roll, blues, country and western or blue-grass you'll likely find it in the Eric the Red Lounge.

The room seats just over 200 people and has a roomy dance floor.

The room is styled with a red and gold carpet, brick and plaster walls, cedar shingles, acoustic tile ceiling and flood lights on the ceiling above the stage.

The room is good for sound and the acoustics are alive and hot when the music is playing.

"The management feels that it is time for this room to grow-up by booking new and bigger groups," said Mr. Don Ivey, who books all of the entertainment at the Inn.

"The idea is for us, the management, to get better and more exciting entertainment in the Jarvis area, and it's up to us to live-up to the Explorer Inn's reputation," said Mr. Ivey.

"My job is to try to analyze the crowds reaction to the music. Keeping the crowd pleased keeps the management pleased," he added.

Groups that play in the Eric The Red Lounge must be good musicians but must also be entertainers. The appearance of the band plays a major factor in their role as entertainers when they play at the Inn.

"My attitude toward music is that if it is not beautiful it is garbage. The music must have a good beat and be relaxing. It shouldn't work anybody up into a frenzy," said Mr. Ivey. "The music should be toned down so people can converse while the band is playing," he added.

"I dream that someday the atmosphere and the appearance of the band and the staff will create an atmosphere that will encourage young men to dress-up so they will attract the females, and that the females will reply in the same way. This is our hope, desire, and wish," concluded Mr. Ivey.

Fines triple to Improve construction

There was a massive increase in successful prosecutions and a tripling in the amount of fines assessed in the first six months of 1975 compared with the same period a year ago as the Ministry of Labour's Construction Safety Branch increased its efforts to improve construction safety in Ont.

By the end of June, there had been a total of 500 successful convictions under The Construction Safety Act, 1973 with $119,740 assessed in fines, compared with 96 convictions and $41,235 in fines a year ago. The fines included a $5,000 penalty, the highest yet under the Act, imposed on a Welland contractor for failure to install shoring in a trench in which a workman was buried alive.

Also for the first time under the Act, a jail sentence was imposed on a Westport contractor for failure to effectively ground a portable electric drill when in use. A young workman was electrocuted by the drill. The Act provides for a fine of up to $10,000 or for imprisonment of not more than one year, or both.

No-Nonsense Needles

Jarvis No Nonsense Needlers held their second meeting at leader Linda Church's on Thurs. Sept. 25, 1975 at 7:30 p.m.

Sept. 25, 1975 at 7:30 p.m. The next meeting is Monday October 6, 1975 at 7 p.m.

All stood and repeated the 4-H pledge and the minutes of the last meeting were read by Chris Mitchell.

Irene Martin gave the treasurers report of $6.92 with dues still to come.

Linda Church discussed colour harmonies and zip colors.

It was decided on "Jarvis no Nonsense Needlers" as the name of the club.

The members went into the kitchen and Linda Church demonstrated how to trace patterns and how to cut them out with a paper pattern.

The members then went back into the living room and Linda then demonstrated how to do the backstitch.

Lunch was served by the lunch committee and they cleaned up. The meeting was then adjourned, all went home.

"The field staff of our Construction safety Branch are deeply dedicated to the cause of reducing accidents, particularly those that cause death," said Keith Cleverdon, Director of the Branch. "I have instructed my staff to lay charges in every situation in which the major causes of fatalities, such as electrical hazards, unshored excavations and hazards leading to falls between heights, are found on construction sites."

The Act, which came into force on August 1, 1973, combined earlier construction legislation into one statute and transferred responsibility for inspection and enforcement from municipalities to the Province. There has been a steady improvement in construction safety since that time.

During the first half of 1975 there were 18 construction fatalities, compared with 17 in the same period a year ago. In 1974 there was a drop of over 16 per cent in the number of fatalities reported with a total of 54 for the whole year.

Falls between levels, electrocutions and cave-ins continues to be the main killers on construction sites, accounting for 55 per cent of the fatalities in the first six months. But this represents a drop of nine per cent over the same period last year.

There were a total of 15,360 inspections up to the end of June and there were 7,908 accidents reported.
